If an earthquake of 7.5 magnitude hit on the Hayward Fault, how can you and your family stay safe, how will you survive until downed services are restored, what is your plan for recovery, and what part can you play in helping others? If you do not know the answers to these questions, you need to take action and find out more. The City of Cupertino, Cupertino schools, many Cupertino businesses, and many residents have already taken a proactive approach and have a plan. If you do not have a plan yet, you can find out more at the Cupertino Citywide Exercise on October 21 and 22.

On these dates, Cupertino will simulate a major earthquake and test the City Emergency Response Plan by setting up an Emergency Operations Center (EOC) and opening the Emergency Reporting Stations around the City known as ARKs. Each of the ARKs will be staffed by trained Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) volunteers, Cupertino Amateur Radio Emergency Service (CARES) volunteers, and Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) volunteers. Residents visiting their local ARK’s information stand will receive valuable information on how to prepare for a disaster in the form of personal discussions with the volunteers. Residents can also participate as incident reporters or as a spontaneous volunteer to experience how they could be part of the solution. The focus of information for 2011 will be on proper methods of purifying water, how to get water from the water heater, how to turn off water and natural gas, how to use a fire extinguisher, and even pet preparedness. In addition, there will be emergency preparation handouts, informative posters, and information on locally available emergency training courses.

Business owners and schools are asked to voluntarily participate by staging a duck & cover drill and orderly evacuation with certain exits simulated to be blocked by debris. Residents are asked to voluntarily simulate loss of electricity, water, and internet for two hours. Those two hours would be a good time to visit the local ARK. For ARK locations and activation times, visit www.cupertino.org/emergency or call the Cupertino Office of Emergency Services (OES) at 408.777.3335.
Diwali
Saturday, October 8, 2011, 10 am – 5 pm

The Cupertino Chamber of Commerce is proud to present its 9th annual Diwali Festival of Lights on Saturday, October 8, 2011 from 10 am – 5 pm. The purpose of this festival is to bring people together and celebrate intercultural understanding that promotes economic prosperity.

Diwali, the Festival of Lights marks the beginning of the new business year in India and it is a festival of joy, splendor, brightness, happiness and prosperity. Celebrated throughout the world, typical Diwali traditions include exchanging gifts, new clothes, meeting new and old friends, offering traditional sweets and wishing each other prosperous new year.

Visitors to the festival will be treated to a festive atmosphere of sari festooned trees, spectacular lanterns, and a cultural kaleidoscope of activities and performances.

Beginning at 10 am with the popular “Kids Zone” art show and grand opening featuring community and elected leaders in traditional Indian clothing, the festival appeals to all senses. The festival will feature Indian food, music and dance like classical “Kuchipudi” and “Kathak” to folk “Koli”, and “Innal Kolatam” to popular “Bollywood” dances.

Attendees may get decorative “mehendi” tattooed on the palm of their hands, learn their future with a visit to the fortune teller’s stall or attend the bazaar with ethnic Indian art, clothing, jewelry, children’s books and toys. The elaborate and exciting Kids Zone will be packed throughout the day with children visiting the magic show, petting zoo, pony rides, face painting and coloring contests.
Take Part in the October Citywide Exercise for Emergency Preparedness

On October 20 & 21 Cupertino will simulate a major earthquake on the Hayward Fault and exercise the activation of the City Disaster Plan for assessing the damage, dealing with the high volume of calls for help, and putting the City services back in normal operation. When a major disaster happens, the resources of the Fire Department, Police Department, Public Works Department and area utilities will be severely overloaded. Calls to 911 for emergencies will be queued to the “serve the greatest good for greatest number”. Individuals are expected to be left to survive on their own for days without food, water, gas or electricity. How will you and your family do?

You can learn how to cope with a major disaster with the help of Cupertino training by visiting the nearest emergency reporting station known as an ARK during the Citywide Exercise on October 20 or 21. There will be informative demonstrations by the local Scouts and steps you can take to get prepared. Free safety giveaways will be available to those who visit the ARKs. Visit the www.cupertino.org/emergency website or call 408.777.3335 to find out more about ARK locations and activation times. The key is preparation and training to help yourself, your neighbors, and others. The City of Cupertino urges every resident to take one of the Free Classes offered on Emergency Preparedness. If you want to be part of the solution, you can be a Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) volunteer, a Cupertino Amateur Radio Emergency Service (CARES) volunteer, or a Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) volunteer. Other specific volunteer opportunities are available as an animal shelter volunteer, a search & rescue team member or a language translator.

Halloween Safety

On October 31 children will take to the streets again for the house-to-house Trick-or-Treat. As they are gathering candy and other goodies, they are not always as careful as they could be. We encourage every parent to drive extra carefully on this evening and to outfit their trick-or-treaters with flashlights or safety flashers on their clothing. A limited number of safety flashers will be available during the October Citywide Exercise at the ARKs.

Simply Safe is a monthly article to inform the community about emergency prepared
Early Childhood Education

by Gail Fretwell-Hugger

Last month we looked at the early schoolhouses in Cupertino and the teachers’ duties to their students when our area was rural and agricultural. This month, we’ll take a look at what children were taught in the early days of our country and our community.

In 1833, a small publishing company called Truman and Smith, in Cincinnati, Ohio was scouting for an eminent educator who could create a series of readers for children. They found their man in the Reverend William Holmes McGuffey, a staunch Calvinist. The Rev. McGuffey had already planned a series of readers and had published his first book. This first reader introduced children to McGuffey’s ethical code. The child modeled in this book is prompt, good, kind, honest and truthful. The book contained 55 lessons.

The Second Readers followed the same pattern. It contained reading and spelling with 85 lessons and 16 pictures. It outlined history, biology, astronomy, zoology, botany, table manners, behavior towards family, attitudes toward God and teachers, the poor, the great and the good. Much emphasis was placed on the duties of youth.

Millions of pioneer men and women were alumni of this second reader, learning to read and write English.

The Third Reader was more formal, containing rules for oral reading, fewer pictures and was designed for a more mature mind corresponding to a junior high level today.

The Fourth Reader introduced good literature— including British poetry and selections from the Bible. It discussed Napoleon Bonaparte, the Puritan fathers, women, God, education, religion and philosophy. The book was designed for the highest school grade. The Fifth Reader was ordered for elocutionary exercises to increase articulation, inflection, pitch, accent, rate, emphasis and gesture. It contained works by major poets.

The Sixth and final Reader of 1885 included 186 selections, 111 great authors such as Shakespeare, Longfellow, Dickens and Addison. The theme of the selections included several forms of composition, description, narration, argumentation and exposition. There were 17 selections from the Bible and the works stressed good morals.

Probably more than any other series of books, McGuffey’s Readers were used in nearly every schoolhouse from the mid 19th to mid 20th century. At least 120 million copies were sold between 1836 and 1960. No other textbook bearing a single person’s name has come close to that mark.

The content of McGuffey’s Readers changed considerably in later editions after the author died in 1879. The books became more secularized, though the Readers were still published under his name in formats that he had not approved. A changing society sought less moral and spiritual content in their school texts and publishers realized there was more profit in consumable workbooks.

Interestingly, McGuffey’s Readers never entirely disappeared and today are widely used by some schools to encourage and strengthen children’s reading and associated skills and give them a sense of history. Almost every public library carries at least one of McGuffey’s Readers. These early texts have a lasting place in the fabric of American educational history.

This event is sponsored by League of Women Voters. There are six candidates vying for two seats on the Council. This event will be televised and webcast will be available at www.cupertino.org/webcast.

November Election Information on Measure C

Measure C on the November 8, 2011 ballot asks Cupertino voters to consider increasing the existing transient occupancy tax paid by guests staying in City hotels from 10% to 12% of the room charge. Measure C will provide funds that maintain general City services such as library services, neighborhood police patrols, City street maintenance, rapid 9-1-1 emergency response times, current levels of police officers, and school traffic safety and crossing guards. The hotel tax in Cupertino will be lower than San Jose which is at 14%.

Measure C provides local funds for local needs; this money cannot be taken away by the State. Given the State’s budget problems, the measure ensures local control of revenues for Cupertino residents and helps to maintain local services.

Measure C will generate additional revenue of $450,000 per year that will help offset some of the $1,000,000 per year that will be lost from Hewlett-Packard leaving the City. For fiscal accountability, all expenditures from the hotel tax are subject to annual audit.

If you or your group would like more factual information about Measure C, please contact the City by calling 408.777.3280, emailing tomeasure@cupertino.org, or by visiting www.cupertino.org/measureC.
To the Residents of Cupertino:

The Budget at a Glance provides an overview of the City’s anticipated revenues and expenditures as contained in our Fiscal Year 2011-12 Adopted Budget. The budget is the business plan for the City and documents the priorities, programs and services funded for the coming fiscal year. Overarching priorities for this year’s budget were to maintain services, and maintain financial stability.

Cupertino’s budget is balanced, not only for this fiscal year, but for the next four years, and maintains healthy reserves. Last year, the budget projected a net loss in the General Fund of $1.4 million due to the recession. Our financial position has improved in Fiscal Year 2011-12 but departments continue with their modest budgets designed to maintain public services and keep costs down. As a result, Cupertino is in a positive financial position when most cities throughout the state are cutting services and experiencing layoffs.

To ensure Cupertino’s financial health, the City will continue to improve revenue composition, streamline operations, and control costs. To that end, I recommended, and City Council supported, the following actions consistent with our Fiscal Strategic Plan:

- Proposed a 2% increase in our Hotel Tax
- Seek equity for our property tax allocations (Cupertino receives less than the vast majority of cities)
- Streamline operations through e-services
- Continue a selective hiring freeze

I am pleased to report a balanced budget for Fiscal Year 2011-12 and beyond. We are currently managing the economic downturn by carefully controlling expenses and have been able to meet our operational and capital needs. National economic forces and our dependence on business-to-business sales tax producers require that we remain committed to fiscal prudence. This means continually seeking ways to deliver excellent service more efficiently, supporting economic development, and developing new revenue.

Respectfully submitted,
David W. Knapp
City Manager

Estimated Revenue Resources for Fiscal Year 2011/12

TOTAL CITY REVENUES for fiscal year 2011/12 are expected to be $62,976,000, a decrease of .7% from the prior year. This decrease is primarily due to one-time grant monies received for various capital projects and the Stevens Creek Corridor Park.

For the General Fund, the City's forecast shows an anticipated $42,893,000 in revenue, for the fiscal year 2011/12.

Approximately 61% of the General Fund’s revenues are from sales and property taxes. Sales taxes are budgeted at $14,283,000 for 2011/12. Our three largest sales tax producers are Apple, HP and Insight, representing 67% of revenue received in this category.

Property taxes are estimated at $11,951,000. The City receives $0.05 out of each dollar paid as shown below:

Quinoa

Healthy food with a Funny name

“I have cooked a very healthy dinner for you today... it is Quinoa Pilaf and tomato soup”

Quipped Gauri, my niece as my family trudged in from a fun but tiring sightseeing trip to the Highlands five years ago.

As a graduate student in Edinburgh, Gauri had found ways to eat healthy on a budget. The pilaf was the most unusual food that I had tasted. It was small beige grain with a nutty but earthy flavor with a weird sounding name Quinoa (pronounced Keen-wah). I eyed the plate with a little apprehension, but to my surprise the pilaf was tasty.

Ancient in its origins, Quinoa has been a staple food of millions for almost 5,000 years, and is know with great respect as the “Mother Grain.”

Although new to North Americans, it has been cultivated in the South American Andes, since at least 3,000 B.C. The ancient Incas called it “the mother grain” and revered it as sacred.

Quinoa is billed as a grain, but it’s actually a high-protein, gluten-free, super-nutritious seed that is as tasty and versatile as it is healthy.

The quinoa seed is high in protein, calcium and iron, a relatively good source of vitamin E and several of the B vitamins. It contains an almost perfect balance of all eight essential amino acids needed for tissue development in humans. One researcher has said, “While no single food can supply all of the essential life-sustaining nutrients, Quinoa comes as close as any other in the vegetable or animal kingdoms.”

Quinoa is a small seed that in size, shape, and color looks like a cross between sesame seed and millet. It is disk shaped with a flattened band around its periphery. It is usually a pale yellow color but some species may vary from pale yellow through pink, orange, or red to purple and black. In its uncooked state, it takes the form of small off-white disks. It swells when it’s cooked and has a lightly nutty, slightly earthy flavor – very mild but distinct, and much more interesting than rice or couscous.

As soon as I returned from Scotland, I ventured into a health store and discovered this grain in the health store and made the Quinoa pilaf in my kitchen. But to my surprise the pilaf was very bitter and inedible. I decided that Quinoa is not for me and threw the box of Quinoa in the garbage.

Five years rolled by. Recently I was reintroduced to Quinoa at a food sampling in a health store. It was delicious. I decided to give it another try. I picked up a box of Quinoa and followed the instructions very carefully this time.

The Quinoa pilaf was not bitter this time. I discovered that the key factor in making good quinoa is to wash it several times in water. Quinoa seeds are covered with saponin, a resin-like substance that is extremely bitter and forms a soapy solution in water to make the seed edible; the saponin must be removed, traditionally done by hand-scrubbing and adequate rinsing.

Quinoa is usually pale yellow. The disk shaped seed has a band about its periphery. As the grain cooks, this band partially separates from the seed but retains its curved shape. In appearance cooked quinoa looks liked cooked couscous sprinkled with little spirals or crescent moons.

Quinoa is as easy to cook as rice. In fact, it’s cooked exactly like rice, though it needs to be rinsed first. Just throw it in a fine sieve / colander and run it under some cold water, or swish it around in a bowl of water and then drain it.

To cook it, use two parts liquid to one part quinoa. The grain itself seems to melt in your mouth. But the tiny bands offer just enough tooth resistance to create a minute crunch, affording a varied and pleasant sensation.

Quinoa has a very light, fluffy texture and a mild taste that easily takes on other flavors. If you’ve never had quinoa before, then I recommend starting simple. The next time you’re tempted by couscous or rice, try boiling up some quinoa, but there’s a whole world of quinoa to explore out there: quinoa biryani, quinoa kithcidi quinoa kheer, quinoa salad and the list goes on...

It’s healthy, it’s yummy and it’s fun to say.
MASSALA QUINOA
My childhood friend Jayashri Chari made a delicious masala Upma for me when she was visiting me last month. I substituted Quinoa for cream of wheat that she used.

- 1 cup quinoa
- 1 teaspoon oil
- 1-2 green chilies
- 1 cup cabbage (finely shredded)
- ½ teaspoon sambhar powder

Heat a pan, add the washed quinoa and roast for 3-4 minutes

Heat a pot with teaspoon oil. Add chilies and sauté for a minute.

Add shredded cabbage and sauté for 2 minutes. Add water, sambhar powder salt and sugar. Bring it to a boil. Throw in the toasted quinoa and stir. Lower heat, cover with a tight fitting lid. Cook for 15 minutes.

Finally add lime juice, cilantro and almonds. Mix it gently and fluff the grains

Serve piping hot with a bowl of plain yogurt

Hema’s Hints: This cold pilaf makes an excellent lunch too.

QUINOA PUDDING
Here is a pudding that tastes great and does wonders for your health too.

- ½ cup Quinoa
- 2 cups milk
- 2 cups carrot (shredded)
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup sugar (as per taste)
- 5-6 almonds, chopped
- ½ teaspoon orange extract

Wash and rinse Quinoa three times. Drain and keep aside

Heat milk in microwave and keep aside.

In a pan add washed quinoa and dry roast for a minute

Add a cup of hot milk, cover and cook on low heat for 15 minutes

Place shredded carrots in a bowl.

Add water to carrots and cover for five minutes.

Drain the carrots. In a blender make a smooth puree of 1 cup of milk and carrots.

Add the pureed carrots to cooked quinoa. Mix in sugar, almond and cook for 5 more minutes finally add orange extract and remove from heat.

Serve piping hot or chilled.

Apple Campus 2 Update

Apple Inc. has submitted a development proposal to replace existing office and research buildings to create its new Apple Campus 2. Most of the 175 acre area is located on the former Hewlett Packard (HP) campus and is situated around it. The City of Cupertino is currently soliciting comments regarding the environmental topics and alternatives that should be evaluated in the environmental impact report. Submission of any comments or input regarding the environmental topics must be received by the City no later than October 5, 2011. For comments, additional information, updates and meeting schedules on the project, please go to www.cupertino.org/applecampus2 or www.cupertino.org/access and select “Apple Campus 2”, then “EIR Questions”.

Parking Permit Applications & Renewals

Cupertino residents living in permitted parking areas will need to apply for a new or renewed parking permit from the Public Works Department. Current permits expire December 31, 2011. The new parking permits will be valid between January 1, 2012 and December 31, 2013. Residents will receive a parking permit for each vehicle (including motorcycles), and two guest permits per address. New residents will be required to submit one form of proof of address (utility bill or car registration bill). Beginning November 1, 2011, residents may apply for new or renewed parking permits on-line at www.cupertino.org. Please contact Public Works at 408.777.3354 if you have any questions regarding parking permits.
Cupertino has a club for video-making enthusiasts that has been in existence since 1995. Originally meeting at the Cupertino Senior Center, it moved to Quinlan Community Center’s Cupertino Room in search of a space to accommodate its growing membership, currently at 38 members.

The Viewfinders Digital Video Club meets every month, except December, to show-case videos produced by Club members, to hear lectures about video making and video equipment by professionals in the field, and to see demonstrations of various video techniques by Club members. The Club was recently recognized by Congressman Mike Honda for its community outreach work along with an August “Comcast Newsmaker” interview of Past President Bob Meacham by Jack Hansen, longtime local news anchor.

If you are interested in this Club you are invited to attend any of its monthly meetings (7:30 - 9:30 pm) at Cupertino’s Quinlan Community Center. The meeting schedule is posted on the website. Refreshments are served mid-program. You can learn more about this Club at its website www.viewfindersclub.org or by contacting current Vice President Bill Mannion at 408.252.2667 or email www.billmannion@sbcglobal.net

Volunteers Needed for World Water Monitoring Day
Saturday, October 15, 10 am – 12 pm
Blackberry Farm in Cupertino
Free event, Pre-registration required

Have you given much thought to the quality of water in Stevens Creek? On Saturday, October 15, the City of Cupertino and the Stevens & Permanente Creeks Watershed Council invite you to volunteer in our local World Water Monitoring Day event at Blackberry Farm. The monitoring activities are easy and fun to carry out. Volunteers will perform tests for dissolved oxygen, pH, turbidity (clarity) and temperature. In addition, participants will have the opportunity to do a bit of bio-monitoring by looking at which creek bugs live in Stevens Creek – finding too many pollution tolerant bugs may indicate a pollution problem. Results from our monitoring will be shared with communities around the world.

While participating in this event, volunteers can learn more about the watershed in which they live, how watersheds work and what they can do to protect important creek habitat. Volunteers of all ages are welcome, although children need to be accompanied by an adult. Due to space limitations, we need to limit participation in this free event to the first 80 volunteers who sign up. Pre-registration is required. For more information or to register to be a volunteer, please contact programs@spcw.org.

Free Compost Classes in Cupertino

The City will hold a free “how-to” backyard compost workshop at Cupertino’s Community Hall, 10300 Torre Ave, Saturday, October 22 from 9:30 – 11:30 am. To register, please contact Recology at 408.725.4020. Cupertino residents attending one Compost or Bay Friendly workshops will receive a free compost bin within two weeks after the class. Only one compost bin per household.

Copper in Brake Pads

Most brake pad material has a high percentage of copper. As the pads wear down, the copper dust collects on the inside of the wheel wells. Some of the dust drops onto the road, but some stays in the wheel well. When you wash your car, please do not hose out your wheel wells. It’s best to take your car to a commercial car wash, where the wash water is sent to a treatment plant and the copper can be filtered out before discharging to the Bay. Copper has been shown to be a threat to lower forms of aquatic life, like algae. Residents may want to ask their automobile maintenance representative if brake pads without copper are available.

Pesticides and Water Quality

Did you know that whatever flows into the storm drain flows untreated into our urban creeks and bay? This includes pesticides... used to control pests in and around buildings and homes as well as in lawns and gardens. Washed away by rain water and irrigation water runoff, these pesticides and herbicides may end up flowing into the storm drains, creeks, and bay. Pesticides can adversely affect water quality in our City and beyond. Very small amounts of some pesticides can be toxic to aquatic life, and pesticides can also impact our drinking water supplies. Urban sources of pesticides are threats to human health and the health of our watershed, but you can do simple things to help make a difference in protecting water quality.

- Prevent Pesticide Pollution by using alternative approaches such as Integrated Pest Management (IPM) techniques, before turning to pesticides and herbicides, visit www.mywatershedwatch.org. There you’ll find fact sheets that are listed by the pest or problem, that explain effective and less-toxic ways to deal with specific problems, or about IPM in general.
- Pesticide Disposal – Pesticides are toxic chemicals and should always be disposed of safely. Never pour unused pesticides outdoors or down storm drains, and do not pour pesticides down indoor drains such as sinks, toilets, and showers.
- Instead, all unused pesticides should be properly disposed of through contacting WM At Your Door Special Collection Services 800.449.7587 or visit www.wmatyourdoor.com to set up an appointment for Residential Pickup. You can also bring your items to the County Household Hazardous Waste Program. To schedule an appointment: 408.299.7300 or www.hhw.org.

Flood Preparation

As this year’s rainy season begins, residents should check to be sure that they’re prepared for the possibility of flooding in their neighborhoods. Those with property located in a flood zone especially should be aware that standard homeowner’s insurance policies do not cover losses caused by floods or mudslides. Property owners can protect against potential flood damage by purchasing flood insurance and by preparing a family disaster plan.

According to the Santa Clara Valley Water District, some areas in Cupertino along Calabazas Creek are considered at risk for flooding; property near Stevens Creek is also at risk, but to a lesser degree.

The City provides the following services to help residents prepare for potential flooding:

1. Residents can find out if their property is in a flood zone by visiting the Cupertino Public Works Department (call 777.3354 for details). The Public Works Department also offers elevation certificates for new buildings constructed in the floodplain.

2. The City’s Building Department has a booklet called “What You Should Know Before You Hire a Contractor”. Booklets are available at the downstairs counter at City Hall.

3. Other information on flood preparedness is available on the Cupertino website at www.cupertino.org/emergency.

4. Additional flood protection information and assistance can be obtained on the FEMA website at www.fema.gov.

5. The Cupertino Library also holds publications for flood preparedness.

The City’s storm drainage system is composed of street gutters, the storm drain sewer inlets (at street corners), and the pipes that connect the inlets to local creeks. This system drains street runoff into the creeks and channels on the valley floor.

Residents can assist the City, and help protect their immediate neighborhood from localized flooding, by sweeping gutters regularly and checking that nearby storm drain grates are not covered with leaves or litter. Residents should abide by street sweeping/no parking signs to allow the city to keep the gutters clean and the storm drain system flowing. The city routinely sweeps the gutters in residential areas twice a month and in commercial areas once a week.

In the fall, before the rains start, a city contractor vacuums out city storm drain inlets, and checks for any evidence of hazardous materials in the drains. This cleaning prevents any illegally dumped materials that may be sitting in the inlets, from washing into our creeks with the first rains.

It is illegal to dump anything into a creek or a storm drain. Residents can report dumping incidents to the City by calling 408.777.3269 during office hours and 911 after hours and on weekends.

Cupertino Raises $28,500 for Japan’s Earthquake & Tsunami Relief

Cupertino transferred funds totaling $28,500 in the care of its Sister City – Toyokawa, Japan, following the devastating March earthquake and tsunami. The Cupertino-Toyokawa Sister Cities Committee served as the custodian and collection focal point for these private, small organization, and school community donations. Funds were collected through a variety of events including direct donations, school projects, T-shirt sales, and the annual Cupertino Cherry Blossom Festival. Toyokawa was fortunate to not suffer the direct physical impact of the natural disaster and will assist in disbursing the funds to those in need.

A ceremony is planned to present the mural along with the check for $28,500 that was raised for the March 2011 Earthquake and Tsunami Relief fund. The student delegation visiting from Toyokawa will accept the gifts on behalf of the city of Toyokawa. The mural is composed of 1,000 origami cranes, each individually folded by members of the Cupertino community. The designs depict the logos of sister cities – Cupertino, CA and Toyokawa, Japan.

In Japan, the tradition of folding 1,000 cranes is done when someone has a wish – be it for peace, health or luck. It is believed that the more people involved, the stronger the wish – so it’s fitting that these were folded by many community members.
