Real Estate Signage FAQs

The City of Cupertino understands signage is critical to the real estate industry. The display of "For Sale," "For Rent," and "Open House" signage is subject to the requirements of the City's municipal code, which have been established to protect pedestrian and traffic safety and to maintain the community's beautiful environment.

The following are key reminders of the sign ordinance:

- Within or adjacent to any Commercial District all signage is prohibited in the public right-of-way (e.g., streets, sidewalks, and medians).
- However, signage is allowed only in the public right-of-way within or adjacent to any Residential or Institutional (e.g., civic centers, churches, schools, etc.) zoned areas and must conform to the following:
  - One freestanding sign per street frontage, two signs maximum.
  - The maximum area is four square feet and the maximum height is six feet.
  - Illumination is prohibited.
  - Off-site: Six off-site open house signs permitted. The signs must be on private property with the consent of the owner.
  - All off-site signs can only be put out between sunrise and sunset each day.
  - All off-site signs must maintain 36 inches of clear and continuous width along a sidewalk or pathway plus any other area needed for handicapped accessibility.
  - All off-site signs must be 18 inches from the curb/edge of street/bicycle or vehicle traffic and must not obstruct vision of any vehicle or pedestrian or block any directional or safety signs.
  - All on-site signs must be removed from the property after completion of the sale, lease, or rental.

Any signage not in compliance will be confiscated by Code Enforcement officers and will be stored at the Cupertino Service Center, located at 10555 Mary Avenue. City staff will contact the owners with directions on how to retrieve signage, which will include paying a fee of $5.50 per sign. Please be advised, any non-compliance with any of these rules on the placement of signs are violations of the Cupertino Municipal Code and may be subject to an administrative fine of up to $500 per violation/sign, and per day that the violation continues.

We appreciate your support in maintaining Cupertino's attractive community, as well as reducing staff time to enforce and process signage violations.

Healthy Cities Initiative Tobacco Policies

Tobacco use, which remains the number one preventable cause of death and disease in California, causes nearly 40,000 deaths in California every year. In Santa Clara County, one in eight deaths annually is attributed to smoking-related illness or diseases, such as cancer, heart disease, and respiratory diseases. More than one in ten youth in the County currently use tobacco products, including electronic smoking devices. The City of Cupertino is considering tobacco policies and is seeking public input.

To provide input, take the Tobacco Policies survey at www.opentownhall.com/7851. You can also provide your feedback at one of the following meetings:

Building Reach Codes
Community Workshop on October 16

In California, Title 24 of the Code of Regulations sets the building code standards for all jurisdictions statewide. However, local governments can adopt more stringent requirements, known as reach codes, which are enforced in the building permit process. Cupertino City Council has directed the Sustainability Commission to propose green reach codes that would support the City's Climate Action Plan. The Commission is working with regional partners at Silicon Valley Clean Energy (SVCE) and their technical advisors to take part in regional efforts around the building code update.

A community workshop is scheduled for October 16 at 6:00 p.m. in Cupertino Community Hall, located at 10350 Torre Avenue. City staff and consultants will give an overview of the reach codes under consideration. Representatives from Silicon Valley Clean Energy and PG&E will be present to answer any questions, and members of the public will be encouraged to bring your questions and feedback as staff considers this important opportunity.

The Veranda Receives the 2019 Silicon Valley Business Journal Structures Award for Affordable Residential Project

On September 19, the City of Cupertino and Charities Housing received a prestigious “Structures Award” from the Silicon Valley Business Journal for The Veranda, an affordable senior housing project. The Veranda, a 19-unit affordable housing development includes 18 units that are age-restricted for extremely-low and very-low income senior citizens 62 and older with one unit set aside for a property manager.

Through the assistance of Santa Clara County Measure A funds, six units are reserved as permanent supportive housing units for homeless seniors with disabling conditions. The Veranda is one of the first developments to take advantage of Measure A funding. The City of Cupertino contributed $3.672 million in funds and another $1 million through the Housing Trust Silicon Valley, which accounts for approximately 43% of the developer’s development costs. Through the City’s participation in the Santa Clara County HOME Investment Partnerships Program (HOME) Consortium, The Veranda secured $500,000 in HOME funds.

The Veranda property, located on a .56-acre site on Stevens Creek Boulevard directly across the street from Main Street Cupertino, is part of an ideal mixed-use neighborhood where they can live, work, and play.
