Can You Be Flooded Out In Cupertino?

Historically, Cupertino residents are pretty safe from major flooding because of the many flood protection measures taken by the Santa Clara Valley Water District in cooperation with the City of Cupertino. In December of 2002, Calabazas Creek overflowed and flooded the area around Bollinger Road. During the 1955 Calabazas Creek flood, water poured into residential streets and homes, forcing the evacuation of more than 100 families. Completed in late 2008, by SCVWD and Cupertino, the Bollinger Road Bridge Reconstruction Project provides more room and safer passage for pedestrians, bicycles and vehicles during a flood of Calabazas Creek. Some of the measures taken to control floods include dams, crib-walls, overflow channels, and bypass channels. Even with all these measures, flooding could still occur in some areas of Cupertino if we get excessive rains. Drain channels or sewers get clogged with debris, or a large earthquake causes the Stevens Creek Reservoir dam to fail. Even if you are not in a flood zone, flood safety is important to learn because you never know when you may encounter a flood in your travels. See the FEMA - Cupertino flood zone map at www.cupertino.org/downloads/pdf/Initial_Study_Figure21.pdf to see if you are in danger of flooding.

Flood Safety – Except for heat related fatalities, more deaths occur from flooding than any other hazard. Why? Most people fail to realize the power of water. For example, six inches of fast-moving flood water can knock you off your feet. To quantify this, water moving at only 4 mph, a brisk walking pace, exerts a force of about 66 pounds on each square foot of anything it encounters; double the water speed to 8 mph and the force zooms to about 264 pounds per square foot. That’s enough force to push a car or light truck off a flooded road if the water’s up to door level. Also, rapidly-moving water often contains debris such as trees, propane tanks, and even boulders rolling along just under the surface. If you are struck by this debris, you or your vehicle can be knocked off a bridge or water crossing and swept away before you know it.

How Can You Stay Safe?

Follow these three simple rules:

• Avoid low areas prone to flooding and move to higher ground. Remember a low area may experience flash flooding from heavy rain miles away.
• Most flood deaths occur because people try to cross swift moving water. Remember the safety message ‘Turn Around, Don’t Drown’.
• If water enters your home before you are able to evacuate, move to upper levels, and take supplies with you. Wait for help. Do not attempt to swim through flood waters.

If you do only one thing to prepare this month…

Clean out your gutters and any yard drains to help prevent local flooding and protect your home from water damage during the rainy season.
Some of Root's readers may have seen this story in the papers last year or articles in California history magazines. It's quite a tale.

In January 2011, the Sacramento County Historical Society displayed the largest California gold nugget (found in 2010) at its monthly meeting. The prize nugget takes two hands to hold and weighs over 6 lbs. TV camera, reporters and people of all ages crowded the society's meeting room. The nugget - called “the Washington nugget” and some smaller pieces were found in 2010 about halfway between Sacramento and Lake Tahoe by a property owner with an inexpensive metal detector and a shovel in a hole about the size of a bathroom sink.

According to Reno geologist, Fred Holabird, “It popped out. He (the property owner) flipped it over and there were the nuggets. Holabird's company would subsequently be in charge of the gold on behalf of it’s finder. Thousands of gold miners had walked right over the piece which was covered in old mining tailings. At the Sacramento historical society’s meeting, a security guard stood unobtrusively off to the side of the display.

While there are bigger pieces of crystalline rock and contain gold, such as the Ironstone and Tricot samples, this newly found nugget is the largest remaining naturally occurring nugget in the earth. Large nuggets discovered during the Gold Rush were quickly melted down by excited miners. The “Washington nugget” was auctioned off for $400,000 in March 2011 and hopefully will go to a collection where the public can admire it.

This information appeared in the Spring 2011 issue of California Historian magazine. In the Summer 2011 issue of the same magazine, the following article appeared.

“Australian prospector: Nevada County Gold Nugget a Fraud!” By George Warren, News 10 Reporter, Sacramento... and a second article entitled... “Duped: Big California gold nugget actually Aussie!” By Associated Press as posted on Huffington-Post.com.

The first article began... “An Australian prospector claims a giant gold nugget purportedly found in Nevada County (California) that fetched $460,000 at auction actually came from Australia’s Golden Triangle”.

A man named Murray Cox said he and a friend, Reg Wilson, unearthed the giant nugget in November 1987 in a farm field near the town of Ballarat, north of Melbourne. Cox provided a 1987 article from the Melbourne Sun newspaper describing the event, along with a Sun photograph of the two men holding the giant nugget they called “Orange Roughie” because of its' fish-like shape. The nugget weighed 98 ounces, same as the Washington nugget.

Cox said Wilson sold the Orange Roughie to an American gold dealer in 1989 for AU $50,000. The Washington nugget had sold for $460,000, in part, because it was portrayed as the largest surviving specimen naturally occurring in the California Gold Country. Claims, counter-claims and accusations of fraud abounded on both sides. The controversial nugget was re-examined and it was determined that the nugget actually was Australian in origin.

Eventually, everyone involved was either reimbursed or compensated and confidentiality agreements prevented further investigation. No charges were brought against anyone. The nugget was re-sold for a smaller price to another bidder.

Hopefully, this nugget and its history will someday be on display for all of us to see and enjoy.

“Share Discovery Through Travel”
Are you Participating in the New Recycling & Composting Services for Cupertino Residents?

We encourage you to participate in the following programs:

Door-to-Door Household Hazardous Waste Program

The Ultimate Convenience – Included in your monthly recycling service, Waste Management (WM) provides “at your door” service to collect household hazardous waste such as paint, pesticides, cleaning products, fertilizing chemicals, auto batteries, electronic waste, and sharps. They will mail you a kit, which includes a bag with a one-way seal. The bag will be picked up at your door as opposed to the curb. The service is available for unlimited pickups. The appointment for collection can be made at www.wmatyourdoor.com or by calling 800.449.7587. Medication is not accepted with this program. You can dispose of your medications at West Valley Patrol Station, 1601 S. De Anza Blvd, Cupertino, CA 95014 (Cross street - Duckett Way) 408.868.6600.

Food Scrap Recycling Program

The food scrap recycling program collects food scraps, food-soiled paper, and other paper items to be “recycled” into compost instead of going into the garbage. Residents can collect food scraps and paper items in the kitchen pitch provided by Recology Cupertino or use your own designated kitchen container, and transfer them to their yard waste cart for weekly collection. To avoid the possibility of odor, bugs, rodents and overall mess in your yard waste container, wrap food scraps in a paper bag, newspaper, paper towel, or a compostable bag, when transporting your food waste from your inside container to the yard waste container. Paper products not only absorb moisture and odor, they compost nicely. Please do not place your food waste in a plastic bag. Plastic will damage the processing machine. Also, please keep your yard waste container lid closed.

Create A Beautiful, Healthy, Sustainable Garden & Learn to Compost Too

Green your garden and earn a free compost bin by attending any one of these upcoming workshops (Only one free bin per household, Cupertino residents only):

Free Compost Class in Cupertino, March 3: The City will hold a free “how-to” backyard compost workshop at Quinlan Community Center 10185 North Stelling Road, Cupertino, CA 95014, Saturday, March 3 from 10 am – Noon. To register, please contact the Santa Clara County Composting Rotline at 408 918-4640 or visit www.reduceseate.org and click on Home Composting for additional 2012 classes.

Consider attending a Bay Friendly Gardening Class.

Bay-Friendly Gardening Basics: This workshop will provide an overview of design and maintenance considerations and practices that will help you make smart choices in your garden.

Bay-Friendly Gardening from the Ground Up: Composting, sheet mulching basics and other soil building techniques will be covered.

Bay-Friendly Gardening to Manage Pests Naturally: March 24 at Cupertino – Discover less-toxic methods for managing common garden pests such as snails, slugs, and aphids.

Bay-Friendly Let Worms Eat Your Garbage: Small on space and big on benefits – worm composting is a great way to recycle kitchen scraps into a fantastic organic fertilizer.

Registration for Bay Friendly Gardening Workshops: visit www.bayfriendlycoalition.org or call 408.918.4640.
How Do Cars Contribute to Bay Pollution?

As the rainy season gets underway, so does the peak time for water pollution. Automotive fluids leak onto streets and the rain washes the pollutants into storm drains which flow directly into our local creeks without any treatment. There are many ways cars contribute pollution to our watershed – and this can be prevented! Washing, changing oil, leaking fluids, and engine cleaning all contribute to the pollution problem. Auto fluids and particles from brake pad and tire wear build up on our driveways, streets and parking lots every day. During rainstorms, rainwater carries the oil, antifreeze, brake pad dust and other pollutants into the storm drain system and flows directly to local creeks and San Francisco Bay, where it can harm plants and animals that live there.

Follow these tips when working on your car:

- Fix all leaks as soon as possible. Do not allow vehicles to drip fluids onto the street, or your driveway, or into the gutter or storm drain.
- Changing the Oil – Always use a drip pan when draining oil. Use a funnel to pour used oil into used motor oil one-gallon plastic containers with tight fitting, screw top lids. (Milk and water jugs with pop-on lids are acceptable.) Lids must be taped securely! You may place up to two one-gallon containers per service day next to your recycling bin for pickup. Place fully drained, used oil filters in a sealed, leak-proof, plastic bag and place curbside next to your recycling bins.
- Engine Degreasing – Engine cleaners contain degreasers that contain highly toxic solvents that are dangerous to work with and harmful to our watershed. Read labels carefully before you buy.
- Washing Your Car – Washing your car in the driveway, street, or carport can carry detergents, oil, brake dust, metals and other chemicals to the storm drains that lead directly to local creeks and the Bay. Before washing, clean brake dust off wheels with paper towels and dispose of the towels in the trash. Wash your car in an unpaved area or better yet, take it to a commercial car wash. Discounts are available at www.mywatershedwatch.org. By protecting the watershed, creeks and Bay, you are protecting the environment for yourself, your children and future generations.

Start Shopping with Reusable Bags Now

As of January 1, 2012, all grocery and retail stores in neighboring San Jose will no longer provide single-use plastic carry-out bags to its customers at checkout. Consumers will have the option to bring or purchase their own reusable bags or purchase recycled content paper bags at checkout. Start shopping with a reusable bag now in Cupertino and join the growing reusable bag trend.

Where is the Litter in Cupertino?

The Environmental Programs Team is trying to identify areas in Cupertino that are littered in order to target them for cleanup to prevent litter from traveling to our creeks and the Bay. Help identify sites by taking pictures of specific locations that are heavily littered. Please send photos to environmental@cupertino.org. Additional questions? Call 408.777.3354. Your assistance in beautifying our community is greatly appreciated!

Know Your Codes
The City of Cupertino takes pride in being a walkable city. Time spent walking pays tremendous dividends in our personal well being and helps to build community. Taking a leisurely walk around the neighborhood on a warm summer evening is a great way to relieve stress, get exercise, and meet your neighbors.

A key component in enjoying those neighborhood strolls are safe, unobstructed sidewalks. Did you know both the City and residents share in the responsibility of keeping our sidewalks safe? The Cupertino Municipal Code requires that property owners keep all vegetation on their property from growing into the adjacent sidewalk and street. This includes low hanging tree limbs that must be kept pruned to a minimum of ten feet above the sidewalk and street.

Many neighborhoods have sidewalks that feature planting strips. A planting strip is the landscaped area between the sidewalk and the street. Although the planting strip is City property, residents are encouraged to plant and landscape these areas with appropriate vegetation that is low growing to ensure drivers have a clear and unobstructed view of pedestrian and vehicular traffic. Maintenance of vegetation in the planting strip is the responsibility of the property owner and must be trimmed to the edge of the sidewalk and kept from obstructing the curb and gutter.

A special note about trees in the planting strip areas... In general, each residence has one or two street trees in the planting strip. The residents and City staff have a partnership in ensuring these trees thrive and are maintained safely. Residents are required to water and report any hazardous conditions that may develop. The Street Tree Division is responsible for such maintenance and assessment of any hazardous conditions that may develop. Residents and City staff will notify you when they are due for pruning. For additional information concerning street trees, please call the Street Tree Division at 408.777.3269.

Whether walking your children to school, working on a New Year’s resolution of increased exercise, or just spending time walking with a loved one, building community is centered on getting out into your neighborhood. Walking is a great way to achieve these goals and having safe, unobstructed sidewalks plays a vital role. To report a sidewalk obstruction by overgrown or low hanging vegetation, please call the Code Enforcement Division at 408.777.3182.
