Be Prepared for any Disaster
How can you make sure you have the essentials if a disaster strikes? Ask yourself these simple questions:

a. What would I need to last 3 days without food or potable water?

b. What if I could not go home from work because my home was involved in a wildfire or earthquake?

c. What if I had five minutes to evacuate in an emergency?

The answers would be easy if you had an emergency pack in your car or easily accessible place.

There are five essential supplies you need in your pack or emergency box.

1. Water – You should have enough for three days (one gallon per person per day). If this seems too heavy or too bulky consider purchasing a water purifier, or water purification tablets.

2. Food – This could be MRE (Meals-Ready-to-Eat) or dried fruits and nuts or energy bars. Anything you want and would be comfortable eating cold. I prefer good tasting granola bars. Make sure there is enough per person for 3 days.

3. Flashlight and extra batteries – In an emergency, the chances of no power is high therefore a flashlight is needed for safety at night. There are a variety of inexpensive LED flashlights and crank up flashlights available. Also, it is not a good idea to keep the batteries in the flashlight as they may corrode and render the flashlight useless.

4. Portable Radio and batteries – It is important to know what is going on in an emergency such as evacuation announcements and routes, shelter locations, and when the emergency or danger is over.

5. First Aid Kit – Usually a disaster is accompanied by injuries so a basic first aid kit is an essential item.

Other important items you may want to include:

- Prescription medicines (a 3 day supply)
- Copies of ID’s and important papers
- Pictures of family and pets (used to help locate the missing)
- Assistive devices including spare glasses, canes, etc.
- Cash (Small bills and change)
- Blankets and a spare set of clothes
- Personal Toiletries (hand sanitizer, spare toothbrush and toothpaste, toilet paper, etc.

Place these items in a backpack or small easy to carry bag in your car trunk or easily accessible place in your home. The location should be one which is accessible if you need to evacuate in a hurry or your home is damaged by an earthquake. An outside shed is a great location or vermin proof box.

Don’t forget your pets!
You also need to prepare a to-go pack for your pets as well. Pet will be just as panicked as you in an emergency. The pet pack should include food, water, bowls, a leash or carrier, toys, poop bags, soft muzzle for canines, and a copy of your latest vaccination records. It is always a good idea for your pet to have ID tags and to have your pet micro-chipped or tattooed as well.

Nowadays school starts in August. In the old days, when Cupertino was all orchards and farms, all the fruit had to be picked and processed first, so school started in September - but every year starting day was different, depending on when the last of the fruit was done.

The Cupertino Union School District is one of the largest in California. It’s interesting to look at the names of the schools and learn a little bit about their histories and who or what they were named after.

Eaton School was named after C.B. Eaton who retired in Cupertino, after coming down from San Francisco at the age of 62 in 1947. He a partner in a S.F. construction company called Eaton & Smith. The company had large heavy machinery and built highways, dams and bridges. Mr. Eaton worked with the City Engineer of San Francisco in 1912 during the beginning work on the Hetch Hetchy Water System which carries water from Hetch Hetchy Dam in the Sierra Nevadas to the City of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton built their home on 55 acres in Cupertino and also purchased the property which is now the site of Eaton School.

Blue Hills School was named, along with the subdivision and shopping center area, after the foothills to the west. The architect put in panoramic windows so all could see the hills and on a very clear day the green hills look somewhat blue and early settlers in the area called it Blue Hills.

De Vargas School was named after Manuel De Vargas, one of the first school masters and principal in a granary school in the valley. Governor Sola, at the capitol in Monterey (in 1815) said all the children must learn. Manuel De Vargas took this advice and stressed learning out this first school in San Jose.

Faria School was named after William Faria, the first casualty from Cupertino in World War II. He was killed in Saarbrücken, Germany during the war. Lt. Faria was raised in Cupertino, attended Cupertino Elementary School, Fremont High School and San Jose State College. He was outstanding in both scholarship and citizenship. R. Ivan Meyerholz was born in Cupertino in the late 1800’s and passed away in 1967. His great interest was in the water development for Santa Clara Valley and he submitted his first report for development of Stevens Creek water to the Cupertino Improvement Club in 1913. This report was the fore-runner to the water conservation movement in the Valley. Mr. Meyerholz held offices in many civic organizations. Meyerholz School is named after him.

Joaquin Miller was the pen name of the American poet Cincinnatus Hiner Miller. He once wrote an article in defense of the Mexican bandito, Joaquin Murietta. When he published his first book he took the name Joaquin as a pen name. He is best remembered for his poem, “Columbus”. At the age of 15, Miller ran away from his Oregon home. He lived in various mining camps and with some of the Native Americans in California. He was adopted by one of the tribal groups and married a chief’s daughter. After she was killed in an accident, Miller returned to Oregon in about 1860 and became a lawyer, however he spent much of his time writing. The school bearing his name was built and occupied in 1959-60. It is now called Miller Middle School.

Murdock-Portal School is named after Carol Murdock, one of Cupertino's finest early teachers. She was also principal of Laura B. Stichter School. She also served as an administrator for the visually handicapped for the Cupertino School District. She firmly believed in the importance of learning about heritage as part of a child’s character development.

Louis Portal was a Frenchman who came to San Francisco during the Gold Rush and prospered there. He moved to the Cupertino area and bought 400 acres. The school is on part of the original Portal property. Mr. Portal’s ranch featured barns, a blacksmith shop, winery, cooperage and a state-of-the-art underground irrigation system. His 18 room house had stained glass windows and was topped by a prominent tower with an encircling porch, from which Mr. Portal could watch his workers with a spy-glass telescope. These are just a few of Cupertino’s many schools. For historical vignettes of each school in the district, visit the Cupertino Museum at the Quinlan Center.

Need to Drain Your Pool?

Residents that need to drain their pool or spa this season should be aware of steps that must be taken to protect the creeks. Don’t drain pool water to the streets. If pool water is pumped directly into the gutter, it will flow into a storm drain and into one of Cupertino’s beautiful creeks. Chlorine and pool chemicals in pool water are a threat to aquatic life in the creeks. Draining into the gutter is prohibited by City ordinance. Pool water must be discharged to landscaping or pumped into a sanitary sewer “clean-out.” Before a pool is drained to a sanitary cleanout, the pool owner should call the Cupertino Sanitary District at 408.253.7071. District staff can provide assistance in finding the home’s “clean-out” and can answer questions about the appropriate flow rate, technique, and the right time of day to drain a pool. To obtain guidance for the pool draining process, visit www.OurWaterOurWorld.org, or call the City at 408.777.3354.

Professional Green Gardeners

Is Your Gardener a Green Gardener? Residents, ask your yard maintenance professional to become a Green Gardener. Cupertino has gone “Green.” Gardeners who attend a ten-week class will learn to conserve water, protect soil, reduce waste and improve the health, appearance and value of landscape while reducing toxic chemical runoff that impacts our creeks. Gardeners who successfully complete the hands-on training will be certified as Santa Clara Valley Green Gardeners and will benefit from free on-line advertising and promotions encouraging residents to hire a Green Gardener. Visit www.mywatershedwatch.org/findgardener.html Classes begin September 12 at Sunnyvale-Cupertino Adult Community Education, 591 West Fremont Ave, Sunnyvale. Registration fee is $120 (Scholarships of $80 are available upon request for individuals who work for or own landscape businesses). The City of Cupertino will pay the remaining $40 for gardeners that show proof of working in the City of Cupertino. Register at 408.522.2700 or www.MyWatershedWatch.org.

The Green@Home DIY Toolkit also includes an easy “how-to” installation guide, complete with short URLs and QR Code links to interactive videos, to help residents navigate points of action in their homes, as well as tips on decoding utility bills and how to calculate your savings. Swing by the Cupertino Library in September to check out the kit and start saving energy, water and costs in your home!
