Get Fit in 2008!

The City of Cupertino invites residents to take advantage of this special offer at the Cupertino Sports Center: a three month membership for off-peak hours for only $15.

Tennis players know the Sports Center to be the premier public tennis facility in the valley, but there's more than ever for the non-tennis playing resident to enjoy. Drop in for yoga, jump on a treadmill or join a trekking class. Work your abs through circuit training and Pilates classes or check out the newest Zumba classes.

2008 CREST Award Nominations

The City is looking for the nominations for the 2008 CREST Award. The award, which stands for Cupertino Recognizes Extra Steps Taken, honors outstanding community volunteers. Individuals or organizations making major contributions to the quality of life in Cupertino during the 2007 calendar.

Brighten Up Your Winter

The winter season is upon us, and your senior center has planned many activities to help keep you warm and well. Here are ways to conquer the Winter Blues:

• Chase Away the Chills: On drizzly, cold days, come to the Senior Center to warm up. Have a warm cup of chocolate, coffee, or tea in our comfortable lobby. Read, chat, or simply bask in the warmth of our fireplace. Join our Monthly Social and Birthday Bash to meet friends new and old, and enjoy great food and wonderful entertainment. Join our Wednesday lunches for hot entrees and friendly company.

• Keep Active: Exercise can enhance your mood, help manage stress, and help you sleep better. It may even ward off those pesky flu bugs. What better way to stay active than by joining a class? Your Senior Center offers classes including low impact, Tai Chi, Yoga, Hula, and Ballroom Dance to name a few. There are also many free social activities such as Line Dance and Ballroom Dance socials, ping pong, golf, and tennis.

• Travel: Want to travel, but have no time? Discover China at our Chinese New Year Celebration in February. Come and enjoy an authentic Chinese meal, folk dancers, musical performances, watch the lion dancers chase the evil away and welcome the New Year. Also, you can check our exciting travel program for many day trips and extended tours.

• Stay Sharp: New activities keep your mind sharp and agile. Take a new class, attend a lecture series, or read a new book. Learn to play a new game like Bridge, Go, or Chess.

• Let Our Center be Your Umbrella: In stormy weather, Case Manager Karen Goss lends a helping hand and provides useful resources. The center offers legal advice through Senior Adult Legal Aid, HICAP counseling for medical insurance questions, and consultation for housing options for seniors. Stop by to have registered nurses check your blood pressure.

For details of all senior center activities, drop by to obtain a copy of our bi-monthly newsletter, call 408.777.3150 for information, or read the current newsletter online at www.cupertino.org/senior.

MANAGING THE BLUES WORKSHOP

February 26, 1-2:30 pm

Winter is normally a time when seniors feel “down.” In this workshop, the presenter will review common “thinking errors” that contribute to negative moods. You will also learn about the “power of pleasant events” to help you to maintain a more positive mood and recognize the warning signs of more serious depression that needs treatment. Information will be given on low-cost services available in the community to help with depression. This workshop is open to the public. For more information about this workshop, please call Karen Goss at 408.777.3155.

CUPERTINO MUSICAL WINS ACM W.A.V.E AWARD
The Alliance for Community Media, 2007 Western Region’s Western Access Video Excellence (W.A.V.E) awards finalists were from Cupertino Senior TV Productions The Better Part. The award finalist included Cupertino Library produced by CREST Award winner Diane Benedetti; Wing Walker produced by Diane Benedetti & Marilyn Priel and Necklace – The Birth of a Musical produced by Dale Porter & Val Jeffery.

Necklace – The Birth of a Musical was the winner of the ‘Talk Show – Entertainment’ category. The program featured Tony Vandersteen who wrote the music and lyrics for Necklace and Dale Porter who wrote the book. Tony Vandersteen is a long time resident of Cupertino and talented composer. The musical Necklace was performed at the Theatre in the Mountains, Los Gatos.

The program, which was hosted and directed by Val Jeffery and directed by Ernie Piini, included clips from the theatre production and featured Tony, playing arrangements from Necklace on a piano. The Better Part is taped at KMVT 15 in Mountain View and airs on Comcast Cable Channel 15. For more info visit: www.thebetterpart.com or contact the Cupertino Senior Center at 408.777.3150

QUALITY TELEVISION
Looking to watch quality television during the writer’s strike? Tune into The City Channel, Cupertino’s government access television channel. It is available to Cupertino residents on Comcast Channel 26 or Channel 99 on AT&T U-verse, and on the Internet, 24/7.

Tune in for the local programming that matters like live and recorded city meeting telecasts, community event coverage, town hall meetings, press conferences, and local breaking news impacting the community. The channel also provides the latest state government programming, including coverage of state legislative floor debates and committee hearings.

Educators and students benefit from an extraordinary range of high-quality educational programming seen weekday mornings and afternoons on The City Channel. These programs, funded by Annenberg Media, provide skills for teacher professional development as well as classroom instruction for students.

For more information, please contact the city of Cupertino Communication Department at 408.777.3264 or communication@cupertino.org.

BATTERIES COLLECTED AT CURBSIDE
Household batteries are accepted at curbside for recycling. Place batteries in a clear, sealed bag, such as a Zip-lock® bag and leave the closed bag on top of your blue recycling cart on your regular collection day. You can also drop off regular household batteries at Target or Radio Shack stores. Cell phone batteries are not accepted in the curbside program. Collection boxes for cell phones and rechargeable batteries, are located at the entrance of Best Buy.

COMPUTER RECYCLING
Cupertino residents can recycle computers and other electronic equipment including fax machines, VCRs, stereo equipment, home copiers, DVD players and TVs, at no charge, at Apple’s facility located at 10300 Bubb Road. Days and hours of operation are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8 am-4:30 pm. Call 408.862.2667 for additional recorded information. Please bring proof of residency.

STOP JUNK MAIL – HERE’S HOW
If your mailbox is overwhelmed with catalogs and solicita-tions you don’t want, you can reduce the flow by using a Junk Mail Reduction Kit. Download the kit from www.cupertino.org/environmental, or pick it up at the Quinlan Community Center, Senior Center, or City Hall. You can also call the City’s Public Works Dept. at 408.777.3354 for your free copy. The Junk Mail Reduction Kit shows you how to get off junk mailing lists and how to ensure that your name and address don’t get traded, rented, or sold to more companies who send unwanted mail.

SPRING BACKYARD COMPOST WORKSHOPS
March 1, April 5, and May 3, 10am to noon at McClellan Ranch meeting room
The City will hold free backyard compost workshops on the first Saturdays of the month. Call 408.918.4640 to register or to get information about compost bins available for $40 from the Countywide Home Composting Program.

COMPOST ATTENDANT NEEDED
The City of Cupertino is looking for a Compost Attendant to work at the City’s Compost Site at Stevens Creek Quarry from March 28, 2008 – October 25, 2008, and consecutive years, on Friday and Saturday mornings. Please contact the City’s Environmental Programs Division at 408.777.3241.

EXTRA WINTER YARD WASTE?
Have extra waste from winter garden cleanups and pruning? An easy way to dispose of yard waste that doesn’t fit in the yardwaste toter is to make an appointment for a free “On-Call” yard-waste/woodwaste recycling day. All residents have the right to two recycling or trash disposal day appointments a year, starting each January. Branches may be up to 6” in diameter and 6’ long. No loose piles. Please bundle or box branches and trimmings. The entire collection of yard waste should be no bigger than 4’x 4’ x 8’. No plastic bags, please. Call the Los Altos Garbage Co. for an appointment: 408.725.4020.

HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL
It is easy to properly dispose of unwanted hazardous cleaning, hobby and gardening products. Typical materials include: latex and oil-based paint, solvents, toxic cleaners, batteries (car and household), mercury thermometers, old pool care products, used motor oil, antifreeze and other car fluids, fluorescent tubes and bulbs, hobby chemicals, photo developing chemicals, fertilizers and pesticides. There is no charge to residents. Small businesses also may be eligible to participate for a nominal fee. To make an appointment for disposal, register online at www.hhw.org or call 408.299.7300.

CALIFORNIA REDEMPTION VALUE DROP-OFF CENTERS
To turn in bottles and cans and reclaim their California Redemption Value (deposit money), go to the following nearby recycling centers:
- Nob Hill Market parking lot (1179 S. DeAnza Blvd. @ Rollingdell)
- Safeway parking lot (6150 Bollinger Rd. @ Miller Ave.)
- Safeway parking lot (1601 Hollenbeck Rd @ Homestead)
You receive 5¢ for a single serve (under 24 ounces) glass, plastic or aluminum beverage container and 10¢ for beverage containers 24 ounces or more. They must have the words “California Cash Refund” or “California Redemption Value” printed on the container.
MAKE A DIFFERENCE FOR THE ENVIRONMENT
By making simple changes in our everyday lives, we can make significant strides to maintain the planet we all share.

- Recycle beverage containers. Look for beverage recycling bins wherever you are or participate in your residential recycling program.
- Shop wisely to save resources. Ask yourself, “Can the container be easily recycled or reused?” Avoid over-packaged goods; buy in bulk when possible, to reduce packaging.
- Use cloth grocery bags. They’re sturdy and reusable. If every household in America did, we could save as many as 60,000 trees.
- Plant a tree. Urban America has an estimated 100 million potential tree spaces. Filling these spaces with trees would result in significant annual energy savings and would reduce electric power plant emissions of carbon dioxide by 35 million tons annually.
- Buy paper products with high post-consumer content. These products have less virgin pulp, saving trees and keeping more waste paper out of the landfill.
- Keep your home healthy by reducing unnecessary toxic chemicals.
- Use Compact Fluorescent Lamps (CFL’s) instead of traditional light bulbs to save energy and money. A CFL uses 75% less energy than a standard bulb. Did you know that of all the energy old-fashioned bulbs use, only 10% goes toward giving off light? The other 90% is wasted as heat.
- Get out of the car one day a week. Car pool, use public transportation, or bicycle.
- Tune-up your car to improve its fuel economy by 6 to 9 percent and ultimately save you repair costs.
- Start a compost pile and feed your garden with your grass clippings and vegetable waste.
- Donate your unwanted stuff. Give clothing, furnishing, tools, and other items to charitable organizations. Your donations provide useful items to people who need them, preserve natural resources, and help reduce the amount of usable materials thrown away in local landfills.

2008 Green Business Conference
Friday, March 21, 2008, 8:30 am – 1 pm
Roche Palo Alto, 3431 Hillview Ave., Palo Alto 94304
$20 per person, pre-registered or $25 per person at the door

Industry experts and city representatives will show participants how easy and cost-effective Green Business practices can be. Attendees will learn simple steps to reduce waste, save energy, conserve water, and prevent pollution in their daily business operations. Businesses of all types are encouraged to attend and find out how to help the environment while improving their bottom line.

Topics at the conference will include the business case for going green, waste reduction strategies and the process for greening your business. Visit www.ReduceWaste.org to register for the 2008 Green Business Conference or to learn more about the County of Santa Clara Green Business Program.

Cupertino’s Green Building Program
Green Building means using building methods and materials for your building project that are more environmentally friendly than those commonly used in the past. Green building results in a building or site that is healthier for the inhabitants, more energy efficient and less damaging to the environment.

There are several places to get advice on green building and practices.

The Build it Green Ask an Expert Hotline provides customized responses to residential green building questions for building professionals and the general public. Most inquiries are answered within two business days. It is free for all PG&E customers. You can submit your queries at www.builditgreen.org/ask-expert or call 510.845.0472 ext. 2.

This month we pick up where we left off in the October edition of “Simply Safe.” In this scenario, a pandemic flu that has spread worldwide has stricken you, but you are far from alone. Many in your neighborhood, city and surrounding cities are sick or soon will be. Many have died, or soon will. However, for those still healthy, there is no security because vaccines for this new type of flu aren’t available. It takes 5 or 6 months to develop and manufacture flu vaccines, using the current technology. And when vaccines become available, priority will be given to vaccine plant workers, health care workers, military personnel, essential government leaders, police, firefighters, EMTs, pregnant women, infants and toddlers. It could take as long as a year after a pandemic begins for sufficient vaccines to be available to the general public.

Because of pandemic flu’s potency and spread, even healthy people suddenly have limited movement. This is also true for everyone throughout your community, your state, and the world. If you are sick, or if any member of your household contracts this flu, it is likely that you will be directed by Public Health officials to remain in your home under quarantine for two weeks. This is to help slow the spread of disease to others and to mitigate the surge in demand on hospitals and health clinics. Self-care at home will be the first choice unless your condition deteriorates to the point that you must seek medical care.

Flu is a respiratory, air-borne illness and is highly contagious among people in enclosed settings. It is also contagious for about 24 hours before a person feels any symptoms. Public health measures for slowing down the spread of flu are likely to include school and daycare closings for several weeks; closing of large public venues (sports arenas, church services, theatres, etc.); advice to postpone social gatherings; direction to businesses to adopt measures limiting employee and customer face-to-face contact; advice to everyone to practice good respiratory and hand hygiene and social-distancing, as well as other measures.

Why would such measures be necessary? Pandemic flu is not like seasonal flu. It causes much more severe illness and kills a higher percentage, especially among young and previously healthy people. Some are left permanently disabled from its effects.

Flu pandemics have happened throughout history, whenever a flu virus evolves that has not previously circulated in the human population. The world and the U.S. experienced a severe pandemic in 1918-19 and milder ones in 1957 and 1968. To understand the severity and impact on society of the 1918 “Spanish Flu,” a good book to read is The Great Influenza by John Barry. It is available in the Cupertino Library and at bookstores.

In the event of pandemic flu, how will you and your family reach out for help? Be wise and be prepared for this event before it happens. You will already have flu medications, rehydration fluids or mixes, water, and easy-to-prepare non-perishable foods. You will have emergency radios, communication devices, and flashlights with plenty of batteries, and alternate methods for cooking and keeping warm in the event that utility service is interrupted or sporadic for an unknown period. You might also have alternate methods for purifying water in the event that municipal water service is disrupted or unable to supply sanitized water for certain periods. Neighborhood Watch and other organizations may need to activate for mutual aid.

Turning the radio on to Radio Cupertino at 1670 AM, you hear updates reporting that pandemic flu has struck 25% of households in the city. You hear that shipments of many items to local grocery, drug, and other stores have slowed down, but are continuing on a limited basis. Truck drivers across the country experience this pandemic, as well. Manufacturing and agriculture here and overseas are affected, because people are sick and many have died. You learn that this is the “first wave” of pandemic and there likely will be another wave or two in the months ahead, as the virus re-circulates to strike those it did not reach before. Each wave in your community lasts 6 to 12 weeks. You have heard that the federal government has enacted its National Strategy for Pandemic Influenza. You or your family members, or friends, or neighbors are sick, and it seems frightening not knowing what will come next.

In hindsight, one could ask, “What could I have done to avoid contracting the flu, and what measures could have been taken to help me and others cope with all this?” With an event of this magnitude – just as with major earthquakes – it’s better to practice foresight, instead.
BEING SMART, BEING PREPARED
While the previous scenario is fictional, it is quite possible. A pandemic flu has a paralyzing effect on its victim, but also slows down an entire city, nation, and global economy once it spreads. Videos and other information are available at www.cupertino.org/emergency under Preparedness Info, Pandemic Flu. Taking simple steps in advance will make a difference. Learn what to do.

IF YOU DO ONLY ONE THING TO PREPARE THIS MONTH…
Buy several gallons of water and additional water storage containers. Begin to acquire and store appropriate amounts of non-perishable food. Don’t forget pets. Decide whether you need enough for two weeks, a month, or longer. Whether it is pandemic flu, earthquake or other disasters, having a cache of water and food is crucial to survival. Develop a process to replace items and keep them fresh. Doing this ensures that you will not waste your supplies nor your money, while preserving a surplus for emergency use. Think of it as an insurance policy. Reach out to neighbors and organizations (your church, synagogue or mosque, scout troop, business clubs, etc.) to inform and assist with their preparations. A prepared community will get through pandemic flu – and any other disaster – much better.

UPCOMING CLASSES:
Pandemic Flu – How will the county plan for a pandemic? How should you get ready? FREE community presentation, Wednesday, January 30, 7:30-9 pm at Cupertino Community Hall

Personal Emergency Preparedness Workshop

Hansen Quarry Update
The quarry is doing additional drilling to assess slope stability, which will affect the Reclamation Plan. When that is complete, the preparation of the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) will continue. The EIR is not expected to be complete until 2009.

For further information on this project, please contact Mark Connolly at: mark.connolly@pln.sccgov.org.

To be included on a mailing list of future notifications for this project, please send an email to hansonquarry@pln.sccgov.org.

How many of you remember the double rock arches at Natural Bridges State Park? Or the salt-water plunge on the Santa Cruz Boardwalk? Or the sturdy nickel box games in the old Penny Arcade?

These old postcards might jog some memories, though most of us were not around when these shots were taken.

My favorite box game in the arcade was the football players. Five cents a game and you could wear out your arm for 25 cents depressing the lever, trying to get your players to kick the football past your opponent’s players. Those old box games are gone now, victims of the high-tech, electronic age. Hopefully, they are in museums or with collectors.

Do you have a favorite horse on the historic Looff Carousel, built in 1911? Wonder if they will give the carousel a 100th birthday party in 2011? Next time you go to the boardwalk and ride the carousel, check out the big, brown horse with the arched neck. Did you know that carousel horses are more ornate with carving, paint and jewels on the side facing out?

What are your favorite rides and attractions?

Happy Valentine’s Day, Everyone!
