During the festival, a series of cultural displays, demonstrations and silent auction of Japanese dolls will be featured at the Quinlan Community Center. The featured artist this year is Connie Dunham and her Japanese embroidery. Other cultural exhibits and demonstrations include ikebana, bonsai, suiseki (rocks without water), nihon shishu (embroidery), origami, shodo (calligraphy), temari (decorative balls), and sumi-e (brush painting). There will also be a fabulous display and auction of Japanese Koi fish sponsored by the Santa Clara Valley Koi and Water Garden Club. Look for them outside the Quinlan Center. Akita and Shiba Inu dogs will be shown on the lawn behind the food court.

All-day entertainment takes place in the park amphitheater. Among scheduled events are four Taiko groups, Japanese dance, various martial arts, children and adult musical performances. Returning this year will be the California Sumo Association with US champion sumo wrestlers giving two demonstrations on Saturday.

Craft booths throughout the park will offer a wide variety of items for sale, including cards, paper sculptures, pottery, jewelry, washi eggs and dolls, Japanese antiques, clothing, paintings, candles, photos, woodwork and T-shirts.

The 200 cherry trees and the two traditional lanterns at the park were gifts to the City of Cupertino from Toyokawa.

The festival benefits the nonprofit Cupertino Sister City Committee, which promotes friendship and student exchange programs between the two cities. Local nonprofit organizations that support services for disadvantaged, youth sports, music and language programs will have booths which raise funds for their groups.

Parking is available at De Anza College. Purchase a one-day parking permit for $2.00 from machines on lot (8 quarters required).

For further information about the Cherry Blossom Festival, call festival coordinator, Lucille Honig, at 257.7424 or visit www.cupertinotoxicawa.org.

TOP 10 Reasons to Walk or Bike to School

10. It saves money—People are going to eat no matter what. Might as well use food fuel instead of fossil fuels to power the journey to school.
9. It’s schedule-friendly, no need to coordinate rides.
8. It’s good for the environment—Less smog for everyone.
7. It saves aggravation—You know what McClellan looks like when school’s about to start.
6. It’s healthy—Why sit in a metal and glass box instead of exercising in the fresh air?
5. It improves efficiency—planning ahead for the time it takes, and minimizing what to carry.
4. It can be social time, walking or biking with friends, or...
3. It can be alone time, if what’s needed is some time alone to think.
2. It lets them notice the little things which people miss when speeding by in cars.
1. It’ll help get into a good college (just kidding!).

Easter comes in April this year so let’s look at the “roots” of some Easter traditions. About those bunnies, eggs and hot cross buns: lots of interesting stories surround those symbols so we’ll look at just a few. In ancient times, the pagans celebrated the rebirth of spring and fertility with these symbols. The hare was prolific, hence, fertility symbol. Eggs were the same thing. The little bread buns were offerings to the ancient pagan goddesses.

Early Christians had a number of converging traditions as they celebrated the resurrection of their savior. Many scholars emphasize the relation of the original Christian Easter to the Jewish festival of Passover or Pesach. The earliest Christians were of Jewish origin brought up in the Hebrew traditions. They regarded Easter as a new feature of the Passover festival – a commemoration of the advent of the messiah as foretold by the prophets. Since the little bread bun was a food item and food goes with festivals and celebrations, it was incorporated into the feast. The little cross on the bun (originally a pagan symbol representing the moon’s quarters) was viewed by early Christians as a symbol of the crucifixion.

Because early Jewish and Gentile Christians had different calendars and reckoned time differently, the date of the celebration of Easter is not always the same to this day. Over the centuries, religious scholars and leaders discussed fixing a date for Easter, as was done for Christmas, but consensus was never reached so each year the date is reckoned differently.

I can remember well the church bells pealing every Easter morning, calling the Christian faithful to worship in the little churches in old Monta Vista. At one time in the 1940-1960’s there were three little churches in the residential square bounded by Stevens Creek, McClellan, and Imperial Avenues and the west end of San Fernando Avenue.

Our family did not have a church affiliation when I was very small. Dad’s mother, Grandma Posie (Posie Thomas Tucker Taylor Fretwell), found this lack of church going unacceptable. Since she didn’t drive, she walked me over to a little stucco church on the corner of Orange and Granada Avenues. At that time it was an Apostolic Holiness Congregation - a VERY enthusiastic fellowship of old-fashioned believers. The women had long hair that fell below their waists and long dresses with long sleeves and high collars. Grandma and I went a few times but they were a little too enthusiastic and sang too loud for Grandma’s more sedate Protestant sensibilities.

The next little church we walked to was farther down Orange Avenue in a two-story building with an auto repair garage on the bottom level. It featured a large room on the second floor with a piano, a wooden lectern, and folding chairs. This little congregation was a non-denominational bible group and didn’t have a regular minister, so a pastor would come from an Assembly of God church in Milpitas. This service was more traditional and suited Grandma much better. The two of us dutifully walked every Sunday, climbed the old wood stairs outside and listened to fine old Bible teaching and sang grand old traditional hymns.

In the 1950’s the building on Orange Avenue was no longer available so some folks bought a piece of land at the end of San Fernando Avenue and the third little church was built, Monta Vista First Baptist. This building had a little church tower that housed the bells. By this time, the rest of my family was also involved, so this church was where I spent many happy years growing up. As, people aged or moved away and land became so precious and housing prices so expensive, the little congregation dwindled and eventually the church was sold, torn down and homes were built on the site.

The only remaining church in Monta Vista today is the little stucco building where I went as a small child. It still functions as a church and houses an Asian congregation now. Nice to see it is still there. One can still hear bells being rung mechanically from the De Anza College carillon that marks the hours but they don’t ring out for Easter.

Hope you all are enjoying the myriad shades of spring green, the tree blossoms and flowers and bird sounds. Happy Easter everybody!

Know your codes: Parking Enforcement and Abandoned Vehicles

Cupertino residents plus De Anza College students, workers driving to jobs, and shoppers and visitors add up to tens of thousands of vehicles in Cupertino every day. All are looking for that elusive parking space but unfortunately, not all available parking spaces are fair game.

Many areas of the city are posted as “resident permit parking” or “no parking during street sweeping hours.” Pay attention to these signs! These zones are regularly patrolled. Motorists should not park in permit zones unless they are residents on the posted street and display a permit.

Residents are also asked to remove their vehicles during posted street sweeping hours. The sweeper provides an important service in reducing pollution from debris that enters the storm drains and flows to the bay. Regular sweeping also helps keep neighborhoods clean and looking nice. Even if the sweeper has already gone through, but it is still sweeping time as posted, don’t park. The Code Enforcement Officer enforces the code based on the posted sign and will not try to figure out if you parked before or after the sweeper went through.

Code Enforcement Officers regularly mark, cite or remove abandoned vehicles or vehicles which park longer than 72 hours in one location. Leaving a vehicle in one place on public streets for longer than 72 hours is a violation of the Cupertino Municipal Code and the California Vehicle Code. Regularly moving your vehicle helps keep debris from collecting in the street and keeps neighborhoods looking nice. The City asks that you store or keep extra vehicles in your driveway or garage if possible.

If your neighborhood is plagued with illegal parkers and abandoned cars call your friendly Code Enforcement Division to get some help.

Mondays 9:30-10:30 am, Senior Center
The Senior Center offers Citizenship classes for members on Monday mornings from 9:30-10:30 am. The next session will start on May 7. This is a preparation course for senior immigrants who want to become U.S. citizens. The instructor will teach U.S. history, civics, and government structure. He will also practice the interview process with his students.
Many of the senior immigrants in our community face multiple challenges, including learning difficulties and language barriers. The successful applicants usually start the preparation early. The class is geared toward seniors, the instructor is thorough, patient, and repeats his lessons. Don’t be embarrassed; join other new immigrants to start on a successful road to U.S. citizenship. Cost is $11 for 2 months.

California Telephone Access Program Presentation
Many people are not aware that California Telephone Access Program will provide special telephone equipment at no cost when it has become difficult for them to use a standard telephone. On April 24, 2007, California Telephone Access Program will be having two presentations at the Cupertino Senior Center. From 9 to 10 am, the presentation will be English. From 10 to 11 am, the presentation will be in Chinese. Please come join us and learn about how to obtain this telephone equipment and utilize this wonderful program so you can communicate better with your friends and families.

Volunteer Registered Nurses Needed
Cupertino Senior Center is in need of Registered Nurses to take blood pressure readings for our members. The schedules are 2nd and 4th Mondays, 1:30-2:30 pm, and 1st and 3rd Tuesdays from 12:15 to 1:15 pm. You can choose the time that is most convenient for you. If you are interested, please call Karen Goss, the Case Manager at 408.777.3155.

Friendly Visitor Volunteers Needed
The Cupertino Senior Center is looking for mature and dependable volunteers (50+) who would like to donate their time to visit a special friend in the community. Friendly Visitor will be assigned to one client with whom they will visit about once a week to provide socialization and stimulation. Visitors may want to play games, write letters, look through picture books, have lunch, or just chat with their assigned client. All the clients are from the Cupertino Senior Center Case Management Program who are frail elders living independently in their own homes. Volunteers will benefit by knowing that they are important parts of a plan to help clients delay or avoid institutionalization and by befriending special people with vast life experiences and interests to share. All clients live in Cupertino or West San Jose.
All volunteers must be able to participate in three initial training sessions, and monthly consultation sessions with other fellow Friendly Visitors thereafter.
If you are interested of joining us for this rewarding opportunity and making a difference in these frail elders’ lives by becoming a Friendly Visitor, please contact Karen Goss, Case Manager, at 408.777.3155.
The Programs listed below are aired Mondays at 4:30 pm on Channel 15 in all three locations. The repeat showings are on Channel 15 at 7 pm in Cupertino and Los Altos only.

Volunteers Needed
Volunteers are needed to help conduct mock citizenship interviews for Sunnyvale-Cupertino Adult and Community Education’s ESL/Citizenship Interview Preparation Class. This is a commitment for one morning only, Saturday, April 14, 2007, from 9-11:30 am. Since many prospective citizens are apprehensive about the interview process, this one-day class gives students an opportunity to practice for their citizenship interview in a relaxed and friendly setting. As a volunteer, you will ask prepared questions and dictate prepared sentences, thus simulating an actual interview. Training for volunteers will be done on the morning of the class. If you are interested, please call Linda Brummer at 408.522.2733.
Bring Your Own Bag!
Earth Day is coming April 22 and what better day to think about saving the earth all year round. Want to make a difference? Bring your own bag to the grocery store. It’s a little difference that adds up big. Save yourself the clutter, while saving precious resources. Bring your own. The City of Cupertino is celebrating Earth Day by giving away free cloth bags as long as supplies last. Bags will be given away to the first 300 Cupertino residents (one bag per customer) beginning in April. Just pick your bag up at City Hall, 10300 Torre Ave. during regular business hours at the City Clerk’s office receptionist’s desk on the main level. Paper or plastic? Neither, choose cloth.

Home Electronics Recycling Event
Celebrate Earth Day and recycle your home electronics! Apple will be hosting its 3rd Annual Earth Day Electronics Recycling Event at the Cupertino campus, 10500 North DeAnza Blvd. on Saturday, April 21st from 9 am to 2 pm. Bring in your old computers, TVs, LCD displays, printers, stereos and other home electronics systems and they will be recycled for FREE. Please honor a limit of five monitors and/or TVs and five other devices per car. For recorded information call 408.988.2428.

Compost Classes
Those interested in learning about backyard composting can attend a free workshop at McClellan Ranch Park on the first Saturday of April and May from 10 am to noon. You can register on-line at www.reducewaste.org (use the search function to find “home composting”), or call the Rotline at 408.918.4640.

Compost Available Again
The city’s compost site opens again in time for the spring planting season. The site is located at the Stevens Creek Quarry on Stevens Canyon Road (across from the dam) and is open for bulk compost pickup on Friday and Saturday mornings from 8:30 to 11 am, at no charge. No appointments are necessary. Keep in mind, the site is closed during rainy weather or if the site remains muddy and on holiday weekends. Please bring proof of city of Cupertino residency.

For recorded information call 408.777.1320, or city offices at 408.777.3269 (6:30 am–3:30 pm). You may also access information from the city’s website at www.cupertino.org and search under “compost”.

Make a Change to Compact Fluorescent Light Bulbs
A compact fluorescent lamp (CFL) is a light bulb that uses less energy than a standard bulb to provide the same amount of light. Those bearing the government’s ENERGY STAR label use 1/3 the energy of a traditional bulb, can last up to 10 times longer, and save $30 or more in energy costs over their lifetime.

The City of Cupertino has switched to using CFLs in all their public buildings. If every American swapped just one bulb for an ENERGY STAR labeled CFL, it would collectively save more than $8 billion in energy costs, prevent burning 30 billion pounds of coal, and remove 2 million cars worth of greenhouse gas emissions from our atmosphere and, the less energy it takes to light your house, the lower your electricity bills.

The ENERGY STAR CFLs can be found anywhere you currently shop for light bulbs. For more information about the benefits of CFLs visit the following website: www.18Seconds.org. This website is sponsored by the 18Seconds Coalition, an organization of businesses, individuals and government working together to raise awareness about CFLs. 18 seconds is the amount of time it takes for a person to change one incandescent bulb in their home or business to an energy-saving compact fluorescent light bulb. To dispose of CFLs properly, read the following article on Universal Waste Disposal.

Universal Waste Disposal
A law now in effect in California prohibits certain residential waste from being placed in the trash for disposal. The intent of the law is to protect the environment from hazardous products containing heavy metals such as mercury, copper, chromium and lead. These wastes, called Universal Waste in the regulations, include electronic waste (e.g. computers, computer peripherals, telephones, cell phones, microwave ovens, VCRs), fluorescent tubes, compact fluorescent tubes, thermostats, and batteries. Remember, most Cupertino residents can recycle household batteries by sealing them in a clear plastic bag and setting them on top of the blue recycling cart on collection days. Cupertino residents can drop-off other wastes at the following locations:

- Electronic waste: Apple Computer’s facility at 10300 Bubb Road, Monday, Wednesday and Friday 8 am to 4:30 pm. 408.862.2667 (recorded message).
• Fluorescent Bulbs: Blaine’s Lighting, 12312 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road, Saratoga, CA 408.252.7400 or the Countywide Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) Program 408.299.7300.

• Mercury Thermometers: De Anza College Health Services, 21250 Stevens Creek Blvd 408.864.8732 or the Countywide HHW Program 408.299.7300.

• Cell phone batteries: contact your local cell phone dealer or the Countywide HHW Program 408.299.7300.

• Rechargeable Batteries: Target stores, Radio Shack or Countywide HHW Program.

• Household Batteries (including rechargeable): Countywide HHW Program 408.299.7300; Target stores.

Pest Management

Spring is here, and that means it’s time to start gardening. It also means you’ll want to pay particular attention to controlling your home and garden pests. Our Water – Our World website (www.ourwaterourworld.org/owow.cfm) has been developed to assist consumers in managing home and garden pests in a way that helps protect the environment. Among other things, this site offers:

• Assorted fact sheets on specific pests and methods to manage them without using hazardous materials.

• Information on where to buy safer alternatives to pesticides, including fungicides and herbicides.

• A list of some products that are considered safer alternatives to more conventional pesticides.

• A list of products, sorted by the pest it targets.

• An “Ask the Expert” feature that allows you to ask a specific question and receive a personal reply.

Check out the website and enjoy an environmentally friendly gardening experience.

Do you know where to recycle your BATTERIES?

Batteries are hazardous waste, so please dispose of them properly. If you are a Cupertino resident, you can recycle your used batteries curbside. All regular household batteries (alkaline - AAA, AA, C, D, 9-volt, rechargeable) can be recycled. Just place your batteries in a clear, sealed plastic bag, on top of your blue recycling cart.

Residents and non-residents of Cupertino can drop off their household batteries (alkaline - AAA, AA, C, D, 9-volt, rechargeable), if they are not able to use their curbside hauler, at Target and Radio Shack stores.

For cell phone batteries contact your local cell phone dealer or the County HHW Program @ 408.299.7300.

There are collection bins for official City uses at:

- City Hall, in the copy room downstairs
- Quinlan Community Center
- Service Center

Make sure you have fully charged batteries for your kit: While you may already have an emergency supply kit ready in your car, home, or at work, it’s equally important to make sure all of its contents will be ready and working when you need them. In the event of an emergency, the last thing you want to do is spend valuable time making sure your electronic equipment works. Supplies such as food, medical supplies, and others generally include expiration dates for you to judge when they need to be replaced. However, items such as batteries for important emergency electronics have different shelf lives, which means some types need to be replaced sooner than others.

Batteries that have a lower output and shorter battery life include the alkaline AA and AAA cell. Since they are most often used in personal radios, walkie-talkies, and flashlights, they should be replaced with new ones before the expiration date. Also be sure not to leave electronics with batteries inside them for prolonged periods of time in your car, especially when exposed to direct sunlight. Over time the charge in these batteries degrades, which may lead to the device having a shorter operating period and in some cases being damaged from a leaking battery.

A battery that has a high output but also a long shelf life can be found in the Lithium 3V (CR123A). These batteries are generally used in digital cameras and some specialty flashlights. Due to their high output they generally provide about one hour of power depending on the device they are used in. However, two advantages of this battery include a 10-year shelf life and their ability to maintain their charge even in extremely cold temperatures, an ability that most AA and AAA cell batteries do not posses.

Getting the most out of your flashlight: As incandescent bulbs begin to be gradually phased out of many flashlights, the Light-Emitting Diode (LED) is quickly becoming the new standard. Although most already know that LEDs are much more energy efficient than their predecessor, few know the different types of LED modules which have different capabilities. To get the most out of your flashlight for general purpose utility (navigating through a dark room, working on your car, etc), the 5mm LED is the most battery efficient possessing a 100,000 hour module life. Most flashlights that utilize this specific LED use the common AA or AAA cell battery and can be easily found at department stores such as Target or Wal-Mart. For those wishing for something more powerful, (namely for the purpose of signaling or momentary spotlight use) the Luxeon LED is better suited. These LEDs have a significantly higher output, but also therefore have a shorter module life averaging from 10,000 hours – 50,000 hours as they use the 3V Lithium battery (CR123A).

Regardless of which type of LED flashlights you choose, be sure not only have them readily accessible, but also with fresh spare batteries.

Special Notice: The Community Emergency Training Center at Vallco Mall is closing on March 31. Cupertino OES wants to thank Mall Management for allowing us to have a free space to display preparedness information and provide training for the last 3 years. We are now actively looking for a new space somewhere in the City. Stay tuned for a new location…

If you do only one thing to prepare this month…

Are your pictures secured to the wall? Hardware stores sell earthquake picture hangers that prevent the picture wire from bouncing off the hook and falling. You can also consider replacing picture glass with plastic to reduce the amount of broken glass in the event of an earthquake.
