Cupertino Recognizes Community Volunteers

Individuals and groups who have made outstanding contributions to the City of Cupertino will be honored Wednesday, June 4th. This year, six individuals and four organizations listed below will receive the Cupertino Recognizes Extra Steps Taken (CREST) Award. The awards ceremony and reception, which will include a brief presentation by City Councilmembers, will be held in the Cupertino Community Hall, 10350 Torre Avenue, June 4, at 7 pm. The ceremony is free and open to the public. This year's winners are:

1) Cupertino Senior Center Volunteers Instructors: The Senior Center Volunteers Instructors are composed of 19 volunteers and have contributed 892 hours of their time and have served 1,011 students. ESOL Conversations, Computer Classes, Pilates, Mind Fitness and Hula Dance are some of the classes that these valuable volunteers teach to Cupertino Senior Center members.

2) De Anza College Auto Tech Club: For 16 years the De Anza Auto Tech Club has helped the West Valley Community Services in feeding those who are hungry in our community by holding a canned food drive every winter. In the winter of 2013, the 80-student club collected 8,800 cans of non-perishable food for the WVCS food pantry. The Auto Tech Club members also help unload and store the canned goods, and bring the food in cardboard boxes to make the job as simple as can be for the WVCS staff.

3) Paula De Cillis: Paula is one of the primary donors of the De Cillis Vietnam Conflict Collection at the De Anza College library. She is also a member of the Quota International of Cupertino and helped plan and organize club efforts for the residents of Cupertino Healthcare Wellness Center by arranging therapy dogs’ visits, singing and beading. She has co-chaired and participated in Quota’s Fall Holiday Boutique fund raisers and Original Pancake House Brunch Benefits to raise money for Quota’s voice services to nonprofits.

4) Linking Youth N Community Services: During 2013, six Linking Youth N Community Services students volunteered an astonishing 366 hours at West Valley Community Services. The students were assigned to various tasks depending on their interest and skill level, helping operate the food pantry and completing important office work.

5) Rob McCoy: Rob is a dedicated volunteer with over 194 hours of volunteer service in 2013. He has volunteered with almost every Cupertino Emergency Response Team (CERT), Public Safety, Bicycles and Pedestrians, Technology and Information, and the Teen Commission, as well as at DUI check point. As a CERT member, Rob is the Incident Commander for the yearly Big Bunny Fun Run event, coordinating and managing all of the CERT, CARES, and MRC volunteers. Rob also led the Pulse Point promotion activity, on behalf of the Fire Department, when it was rolled out for all Santa Clara County users.

6) Inge Roberts: Inge is a member of her Neighborhood Earthquake Preparedness Committee where for several years she headed up the first aid aspects of the committee. She initiated an arts program where mothers taught weekly art lessons to Cupertino Lincoln-El Encanto Elementary School students. Inge has also helped abused women and hearing-impaired children and as a member of Quota International of Cupertino, she takes a child shopping as part of the Kiddie’s Holiday Shopping program.

7) Dick Schuster: Dick is one of West Valley Community Services’ most reliable and dedicated volunteers. Every Wednesday morning, Dick arrives carrying a bounty of fresh bread and pastries from the local Safeway, much to the delight of WVCS clients. In 2013, Safeway donated a total of 12,248 pounds of food to WVCS. Dick picks up around 255 pounds of food during his weekly trip to Safeway. For a man who just turned eighty, this is a great testament to his dedication.

8) Janice Sung: Janice has dedicated most of her time and effort to volunteer work for the past fifteen years. She is the co-founder of the American Tea Culture Association that introduces American audiences to the art of brewing tea and its related Zen concepts. Janice is also a member of the Cupertino-Hsinchu Sister City Association in which she has contributed greatly to fostering the ties between Cupertino and the “Silicon Valley” of Taiwan. She has been in charge of organizing the student-exchange program, which brings middle and high school students from each city to its sister city for week-long home and school visits.

9) Union Church of Cupertino: Union Church of Cupertino is celebrating its 125 years of support to the community. Beyond caring for individuals’ spiritual health, Union Church of Cupertino has a strong community outreach and supports local non-profits. The Church supported the Rotating Shelter for the 18 years that it provided services to homeless men. In addition to their dedication in supporting the Rotating Shelter, Union Church has also partnered with West Valley Community Services in ensuring that the Adopt-A-Family Program has a space to store and distribute gifts. Church members were readily available to assist adopters unload gifts from their car and help them check-in with WVCS staff.

10) Cindy Van Zoeren: Cindy has volunteered both as a Food Pantry volunteer and as an Office Assistant at West Valley Community Services. Born with Down Syndrome, she has come in every Friday morning from 8:30 to 11:30 am, taking the bus from her own apartment to the West Valley Community Services office where she works independently as possible, helping to make sure that the office is well-supplied with critical documents. Cindy completes very important work for WVCS, and always puts a smile on our faces, with her great personality and desire to socialize and stay in touch with everyone around the office.

Please come help us celebrate these truly remarkable members of our community on Wednesday, June 4, 2014, 7 pm, at the Cupertino Community Hall, 10350 Torre Avenue in Cupertino.

Bike to Work Day
Thursday, May 8, 2014

The Cupertino Bicycle Pedestrian Commission (BPC) and Cupertino Library, in conjunction with the Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition (SVBC) and many other community BPCs, are encouraging commuters and students to leave their cars at home and join tens of thousands of their fellow Bay Area residents in biking to work or school.

Once again this year, the Cupertino BPC will set up an Energizer Station in front of the Quinlan Community Center at 10185 North Stelling Road, operating from 6:30 - 9 am and will serve both coffee and food while dispensing information and encouragement to all passing cyclists.

Bike to Work Day (BTWD) is a community event that encourages residents to try bicycling as their mode of transportation to get healthy exercise while relieving traffic congestion, improving air quality, reducing petroleum consumption, and saving money.

SVBC coordinates BTWD for Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties. Bay Area-wide BTWD contests challenge groups of cyclists to form teams and submit records of their bike commuting during National Bike Month, which is the month of May. Information can be found at bikesiliconvalley.org/btwd/, the SVBC website. Check the 511 website at bicycling.511.org for information to help map bike routes to work.

Cupertino had a very successful BTWD last year with a count of 122 cyclists pedaling past the Quinlan Community Center Energizer Station, of which more than 90 stopped for coffee and a chat about their commute.

How Dry is Our Drought?

In 2013, California experienced the driest year on record and current conditions suggest we may experience the same in 2014. As of April 2, Cupertino received just 5.68” of rain this season, just 40% of normal levels. This rain is typically captured in our local reservoirs, serving as our primary source of fresh drinking water. Less rain means lower reservoirs and a search for drinking water elsewhere. In fact, the City’s main reservoir, the Stevens Creek Reservoir, was at 13% capacity this April. You can keep track of our reservoir here: www.valleywater.org/WaterTracker.aspx.

The Worth of Water

Things are looking pretty dry here in California, but do we know the worth of water? A safe and reliable water supply promotes our high quality of life in Cupertino by:
- Protecting public health
- Accommodating firefighting needs
- Bolstering economic prosperity
- And much more!

How much are these benefits worth to you? How about your daily shower or drinking water? Think about how many times you come in contact with water throughout your day. It’s a pretty incredible resource. Let’s start recognizing water’s value and don’t waste a drop!

Call to Conserve Water

California State Governor Brown recognized the value of water when he declared a drought State of Emergency and called all Californian’s to reduce water usage by 20%. The Santa Clara Valley Water District answered this call by adopting a mandatory 20% water use reduction target by December 31, 2014 and alerted cities in its service territory in March 2014 that it will...
When will the next big earthquake strike?

It has been over 100 years since the magnitude 7.8 earthquake hit San Francisco affecting the whole Bay Area. Since then many smaller quakes happen every day in the Bay Area, the most memorable being the Loma Prieta earthquake in 1989. Most earthquakes cannot be felt and thus people in the Bay Area have developed a ho-hum attitude toward earthquake preparedness. That is, until the next big one happens!!

We are now in the 75-200 year window for the next big earthquake in the Bay Area. No one can predict when it will happen. That is why it is important to BE PREPARED.

The Biggest Issue for You

If you consider how many people will need help if a large earthquake hits and then consider the limited resources in the Cupertino area, you can easily conclude that you will be on your own for a while. There is a Federal mandate which states that the emergency resources will be allocated “to do the greatest good for the greatest number.” There may be dangers of uncontrolled fire, flood from a dam breaking, or a danger of sewage failure causing water contamination and other health concerns. You will need to have enough clean water and other supplies to last three or more days. You may need to put out small fires, turn off your own gas lines, and make minor damage repairs for the sake of safety.

Also, the electricity may not be working, so you will need to keep battery-operated lamps and flashlights on hand. It would be wise, as well, to have a good first aid kit to handle any minor injuries. A good portable AM radio (tuned to Cupertino Radio 1670 AM) would be an excellent idea if you wanted to know what is going on. If it happens in the middle of winter, your only option for warmth and food may be evacuation. The good news is that in these types of disasters, people come together and help each other. The bad news is there are not enough residents who know what to do.

What Will I Do?

Again, professional help will be very limited, at least for the first few days after a major earthquake. In Cupertino, there are special places, called ARKs, where you can go to report damage, request minor assistance, and find out information. They do not carry a supply of food or water for residents, but do have supplies for trained volunteers to help others. They will have communications set up to contact the Cupertino Emergency Operations Center for life threatening needs. Always, keep in mind however; help is based strictly on priority. The volunteers can only do what they are trained to safely do, and there may not be enough people to help you in a timely manner. Again, the best strategy is for you to get trained to know what to do.

What Can I Do?

You may ask, “How do I get prepared?” The best way is to sign up for one of the free classes offered for Cupertino residents listed below. Each of the classes will let you know what you can do to be prepared. You should also sign-up for Cupertino Alert System notifications on mobile devices and install Ready 95014 apps on your smart phone or tablet to keep you informed. Don’t wait until a major disaster before you act!

Upcoming Public Sessions:

FREE! Earthquake Preparedness and Home Safety.

The class is one hour and is scheduled on request for Cupertino businesses, churches, or social groups of 8 or more. This class can come to you! Contact the Cupertino Office of Emergency Services (OES) at 408.777.3335, email OES@cupertino.org for more information, or to request a class for your company, group or organization.

FREE! Personal Emergency Preparedness Class (PEP) offered by the Santa Clara County Fire Department. The class covers Earthquake safety, Disaster preparation, Disaster communication tips, First aid techniques that save lives, Home safety, Fire Safety including how to use a fire extinguisher, Emergency supply suggestions – and more! The next two PEP classes are: Monday, May 5, 6 – 9 pm at 208 E. Main St #214, Los Gatos, CA, 95030 and Tuesday, June 24, 6 – 9 pm in the Campbell Community Center at 1 W. Campbell Ave, Room E-42, Campbell, CA, 95008. For registration, e-mail info@cnt.sccgov.org. (provide your full name, e-mail address, phone number and residential or work address), or contact the Santa Clara County Fire Department at 408.378.4010.

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training schedule. This is the perfect time to learn to be part of the disaster response solution. This is an intensive training session by the Santa Clara County Fire Department on preparedness and helping others during a disaster. The course is offered four times a year and you will have one-year to make up any missed sessions for graduation. You may attend the final exercise once all six sessions have been completed. We encourage all Cupertino residents to attend this worthwhile training. The next class runs July 29, 30, 31 and August 5, 6, 7, from 6 – 9 pm with the final exercise on August 9, 10 am – 1 pm. All classes will be held at Cupertino City Hall, 10300 Torre Avenue, Cupertino. The registration fee is $35 which will be reimbursed to Cupertino residents upon successful completion of the course. If you have questions or want to register contact: info@scsfd.org or call at 408.378.4010.

Simply Safe is a monthly article to inform the community about emergency preparedness, training schedules and volunteer opportunities.

If you do only one thing to prepare this month:

Register your mobile devices on the Cupertino Alert System. Be the first to know of disaster information in your area! Go to www.cupertino.org/CAS today to sign up.

by Jerry Tallinger – Cupertino CERT member
Wintertime in the old days made it hard to get around. “Roads” - and I use the term loosely - were muddy, rutted, and pot-holed and wagons and stages routinely stuck up to their axles. Passengers often had to disembark and lend a hand in their good traveling clothes to heave-ho the backend of whatever wheeled conveyance they rode in.

The famous boulevard in San Jose, known as The Alameda, was lovely to look at with its double row of leafy trees and charming to ride/drive on in the summer when it dried out, but many months of the year it was impassable muck. (We got more rain in those days) A fellow even made a toll road out of the Alameda for a while and as the years went by and rates rose, seemed a good idea to just walk or ride on the other side of the trees, out in some farmer’s field and just bypass the whole shebang. Rates ranged from ten cents to 25 cents to a dollar, depending on the mode of transportation - easier to just go outside and make your own way.

Technology came along - like it always does - and savvy businessmen got tired of dealing with mud and delays in transporting themselves, other people and freight around town - there had to be a better way. There’s a great little black and white photo that shows 3 kinds of transportation on the main street of Los Gatos around the turn of the previous century. The picture shows buildings, the street, a horse-less carriage (early auto), a horse-drawn wagon and an interurban rail car.

Those who got in on the ground floor of interurban rail cars had options - early on, the good old horse pulled the passenger car on some rails. Kids would sometimes throw firecrackers to scare the horses. One horse freed himself from his car and bolted down 4th St. (in San Jose) with the conductor in hot pursuit. Veering sharply, the horse raced toward the porch of the Edward Johnson cottage. Johnson and his son-in-law, Oliver Chapman barely managed to scramble out of the way. The horse cleared 3 porch chairs, entered the house, knocked down Mrs. Chapman and pursued two screaming little girls across the yard and into the stable. Only then was the horse secured and taken back to his car. Fortunately there were no serious injuries to people or the horse.

Pneumatic and steam cars were tried and then we had electricity. There are too many technical details for this little column, but references are at the end if you want to read further. Simply put, one system utilized a “third rail” which carried the current to run the car. The rails went down under the car. Trouble was, folks with metal tipped umbrellas thought it was loads of fun to stick the metal tip onto the third rail to watch the sparks fly.....there went the power and everything on the line shut down. Next step - overhead power lines.

There were competing rail companies and lines all over the valley. You could catch the Peninsular Electric Railway in San Jose - go all the way down Stevens Creek Road, turn right at old Monta Vista and head over to Palo Alto or Redwood City to catch the train to San Francisco. Or you could start in San Jose and go to Campbell, Saratoga, Los Gatos and Congress Springs on the western side of the valley - on the Blossom Line - to enjoy the miles of orchards in bloom in the spring.

You could get around most of downtown San Jose on different trolley lines. Sadly, after about 70 years, the popularity of buses and automobiles sounded the death knell for trolleys. In 1938, the last of the streetcars made their final run. In the Cupertino Museum at the Quinlan Center there is a picture of Stevens Creek Rd as it approaches the Crossroads from San Jose - the old trolley tracks are still in evidence in the middle of the road, but weeds nearly obscure the rails. Eventually all the rails were torn up and sold for scrap metal. San Jose made a profit of $27,000 when the last rail was removed, asphalt poured to cover the passing of trolleys and streetcars from the valley scene and the passing of a more leisurely way of local travel.

Because over-watering and rain water may carry pollutants into local creeks from everyday activities like cooking, gardening, maintaining your car, and even cleaning out your garage and medicine cabinet, it’s important to prevent pollution at the source. Follow these tips to protect water quality every day:

1. Reduce Use of Toxic Pesticides and Landscape Chemicals
   Use pesticides and weed killers only when absolutely necessary and choose the least toxic product available. Do not apply chemicals to impervious surfaces if rain is forecast, or when you are watering, because the runoff may contaminate local creeks and the bay. Visit www.mywatershedwatch.org for tips on safe and effective pest control options.

2. Properly Dispose of Household Hazardous Waste
   Contact Waste Management (WM) At-Your-Door service to collect your household hazardous waste (cleansers, paint, garden chemicals, and more). See a list of accepted items and make an appointment for collection at www.wmatyourdoor.com or by calling 800.449.7587.

3. Don’t Flush Unwanted Medication
   Some pharmaceutical chemicals persist through the wastewater treatment process and will end up in the Bay, where they may harm aquatic life. Dispose of your medications properly by taking them to the West Valley Sheriff’s Sub-Station, 1601 S. De Anza Blvd, Cupertino 408.868.6600.

4. Prevent Fats, Oil and Grease from Going Down the Drain
   Keep your pipes clog-free by collecting fats, oil and grease in one-gallon plastic containers with tight fitting, screw top lids. (Milk and water jugs with pop-on lids are acceptable). Lids must be taped securely! You may place up to two one-gallon containers next to your recycling bin on your recycling collection day.

5. Don’t be a Litter Bug
   Litter harms local wildlife and aquatic animals. It flows into storm drains and to our creeks, affecting water quality. Be sure to dispose of trash properly and recycle plastic bags in your recycling cart or at major grocery stores.

6. Help Cupertino Shop Green
   Take reusable bags shopping. Fewer paper bags will conserve trees and fewer plastic bags will reduce the plastic litter in our waterways, which threatens birds and marine life.

7. Wash your vehicle at a commercial car wash.
   Washing your car in your driveway or the street sends dirty water, soap, metals, oil and grease into the gutter, which eventually flows to local creeks and the bay. Instead, visit a car wash, where the drains lead to the wastewater treatment plant. For discount on car washes, a Watershed Watch Discount Card is available at www.mywatershedwatch.org.

   If you must wash your car at home, follow these guidelines:
   - Wash your car on a lawn, dirt area, or gravel driveway, so that the water will not run into a street or storm drain.
   - Use rags to wipe brake dust off of wheels before washing.
   - Use a nozzle with a shut-off on your hose to conserve water.
   - Avoid using soap and other chemicals (such as spray-on wheel cleaners). Even biodegradable soap may be toxic to wildlife.
   - Pour your bucket of soapy water down a sink or toilet or onto landscaping when you are finished.

   If you want to hold a car wash fundraiser, here’s what you can do:
   - Ask commercial car washes for discounted passes that you can sell at the regular price to raise funds.
   - Hold the event at a commercial car wash and ask them to donate part of the profits if you bring people to their car wash.
   - The City of Cupertino will loan Cupertino residents, nonprofits, and school groups a Sudsafe stormdrain protection car wash kit. Along with other supplies, the kit contains an insert to block a stormdrain and a pump to divert wash water to nearby landscaping or to the sanitary sewer for treatment and discharge. Wash cars on a field instead of a parking lot, so water will not run into stormdrains, streets or gutters. To borrow the City’s car wash kit, call Cupertino Environmental Services at 408.777.3354 or email environmental@cupertino.org.

8. Compost food waste and use it as nutrient rich soil for your garden & recycle!
Environmental Recycling & Document Shredding Day
Saturday, May 17, 9 am – 1 pm

Doing some spring cleaning? Gather up your old confidential documents, the items you’ve been meaning to donate, and that broken printer in your cupboard and head to Environmental Recycling and Document Shredding Day! It will be held on Saturday, May 17, 2014, 9 am – 1 pm in De Anza College’s Parking Lot A. Accepted items are:

• Electronic waste (computers, monitors and printers)
• Universal waste (batteries, cell phones, CFLs and fluorescent tubes)
• Reusable furniture (not dirty, stained, or torn)
• Clothing
• Residential documents (for confidential onsite shredding; two box limit)

Please note: NO paint, toxic chemicals, or mattresses accepted.

For further information, contact Recology at 408.725.4020. This event compliments the FREE e-waste drop off offered for Cupertino residents by Apple Computer (now at 1326 Kifer Road in Sunnyvale).

Clean Up Our Creeks! Saturday, May 17

Join the City of Cupertino and your neighbors at our semiannual community creek cleanup on Saturday, May 17th, 9 am - 12 pm at Creekside Park, 10455 Miller Avenue, Cupertino. Volunteers and City staff will clean up areas around Calabazas and Regnard Creeks. Gloves, trash grabbers and bags will be provided. Volunteers are encouraged to wear sunscreen and dress for safety (wear long sleeves, pants and old shoes, rain boots or equivalent). Free refreshments will be offered. Bring a friend, bring your family, and have fun keeping Cupertino creeks clean! Register online at www.cleanacreek.org or contact the City at 408.777.3354.

Apple’s E-Waste Recycling Facility Has Moved

The Apple Electronic Waste Recycling drop-off has moved from its former Cupertino location to 1326 Kifer Road in Sunnyvale. Cupertino residents are still welcome to drop off their e-waste (old or unusable electronics) free of charge during the same hours of operation: Monday, Wednesday, & Friday, 8 am – 4 pm. Proof of residence is required. Cupertino residents have two other free options for recycling electronic waste: 1) WM At Your Door Services (call 800.449.7587 to schedule a free home pick-up); or 2) Environmental Recycling & Shred It days at De Anza College occurring three times per year; remaining events in 2014 are on May 17 and October 25.

only provide 80% of treated drinking water requested for the rest of the year. Water utilities and communities will need to mindfully conserve water to make up for this shortfall, or increase their supply by pumping more groundwater. To that end, San Jose Water Company has adopted several conservation rules to help reduce water demand by 20%.

Your Water Saving City

The City’s longstanding water conservation efforts within our facilities and among our parks, fields and medians have primed our community to respond to the 20% reduction target. Some of the water-wise actions the City has implemented in the past few years include planting water efficient landscaping (think drought tolerant plants!), installing water efficient irrigation (evapotranspirative, say that 5x fast!), and upgrading to water efficient fixtures (toilets, showerheads, faucets). You can learn more about our water-saving work here: www.cupertino.org/savewater.

Aside from its own facilities and landscaping, the City also promotes water conservation throughout our community. To coach businesses and residents in water-saving techniques, the City offers two sector-focused service programs, GreenBiz (www.cupertino.org/greenbiz) and Green@Home (www.acterra.org/programs/greenathome), which offer FREE indoor and outdoor water assessments and equipment upgrades (e.g. faucets, showerheads, toilets). These programs combined have saved the Cupertino community nearly 5.5M gallons of water and participants nearly $100,000 through water and energy-savings measures.

Inundation Zone Outreach Program
During 2013 citywide Dam Plan Drill, significant efforts were made to encourage residents living in the inundation zone to sign up for the Cupertino Alert System (CAS) so they could be alerted during a flooding emergency. However, only less than 10% of the residents responded to this call. Therefore, during the March Public Safety Commission (PSC) meeting, a resolution was passed to create an Inundation Zone Outreach Program. In order to remedy this situation, Commission Chair, Dr. Andy Huang said “We would visit the residents in the inundation zone door-to-door to raise their awareness as well as sign them up to the city's free CAS system.” All Cupertino volunteers; Block Leaders, Neighborhood Watch, Citizen Corps (CERT, CARES, and MRC) will also be promoting this outreach program.

The Disaster Council, chaired by City Council member Mark Santoro, has also endorsed this outreach program. “Both the city and the county are in support of this outreach program,” said Dr. Huang. The City of Cupertino will provide outreach communications and parking space necessary to establish the Incident Command Post; Santa Clara County Sheriff Office will provide cadets to accompany the volunteer walking teams; Santa Clara County Fire will provide paramedic support; and the Red Cross will provide an Emergency Response Vehicle for refreshments and snacks.
