Cyclists Energized on Bike-to-Work Day

Bicycle Commuter Beate Heckner made a brief stop for coffee and coffee cake at Cupertino’s Quinlan Center Energizer Station in route to her job in Sunnyvale on Bike-to-Work Day. Beate regularly commutes to work from the Cambrian area, a roundtrip distance of some 45 miles. “It’s great exercise and a great way to start and finish the day” according to Beate who has been a regular bicycle commuter for several years. “I’ve learned to ride safely in traffic and fix an occasional flat tire, and I often make better time in getting to work than my freeway bound friends.”

An estimated 750 bicyclists rode to, through or from Cupertino on Bike-to-Work Day in route to work, school or just to run errands. The average Silicon Valley bicycle commuter rides a roundtrip distance of 10 to 14 miles and often adds a few additional miles to take advantage of less busy streets and pathways. Some dedicated cyclists use their commute as an exercise opportunity, or like Beate, to train for longer recreational rides and competitive bicycling.

Santa Clara County and the greater Bay Area celebrated Bike-to-Work Day on Thursday, May 15th. The VTA supports this pedaling effort through Energizer Stations staffed by volunteers, and located along major bike routes throughout the County. In addition to refreshments, the Quinlan Energizer Station provided “how to” information on commuting by bike, along with VTA Bikeways Maps showing Countywide bike routes. For information on commuting by bike contact Joe Walton, Program Coordinator for Cycle Commute Cupertino, at jhwalton@msn.com or by calling (408) 996-7861.

Cupertino Cuisine: Yogurt
by Hema Kundargi

Yogurt has earned a reputation as one of the most valuable health foods. For centuries, yogurt has been regarded as wholesome food in the diet of many nations like Turkey, Russia and India. Yogurt is one of the most important foods for an Indian. 50 percent of all milk is converted into yogurt in India. Yogurt is rich in calcium, phosphorus and B vitamins.

It is believed that the first yogurt was made in Turkey. Legend has it that a nomad traveling through the desert kept some milk in a goat skinned bag and hung it across the back of his camel. Opening the bag a few hours later, he found the milk had turned into tangy custard.

As a child, I remember seeing my mother make yogurt every night. She made it so effortlessly that I did not bother to learn the process. Whenever I tried to make yogurt, the results were much less successful.

Ten years ago, when we moved to new neighborhood, there was an Indian family on our block. The grandparents, Patil Ajoba and Patil Aiji, as my children called them, had emigrated from India and adapted their cooking to the American kitchen since 1980. Eighty-five year-old Patil Ajoba, a self-taught cook, feels one should have success in cooking every time and eliminate the guesswork. Patil Ajoba and Aiji enthusiastically shared their foolproof way to make yogurt.

Heat 6 cups milk (1 percent or 2 percent or whole) in the microwave oven for about 10 minutes until it starts to boil over. Remove it from the microwave and keep it aside to cool for 10-15 minutes. Check the temperature with a meat thermometer, which is available in all grocery stores. Wait for the temperature to reach 130 degrees, the lowest setting on a meat thermometer, add two tablespoons of yogurt. Whisk it with an eggbeater and cover it with a plastic wrap. Place this bowl in an oven with the oven light on. Keep it undisturbed overnight. The next morning you have yogurt firm enough to slice.

Patil Ajoba’s Hints: This technique works for 6 cups. With less quantity of milk the temperature, at which yogurt culture is added, needs to be a couple of degrees higher.

Hema’s Hints: Alternative to keeping the bowl in the oven I wrap my yogurt bowl in a bed sheet and keep it on the countertop to set.

Simply Safe
by Marsha Hovey

Tragedy struck one of our own CERT graduates on May 7. Rich Madden’s house burned down after construction workers near his home broke a gas line under the street. While PG&E and County Fire were standing by attempting to locate the leak, it is believed that the gas traveled underground, through existing trenches (possibly sewer), and accumulated in the house foundation. An unknown ignition source (possibly a pilot light) caused an explosion that lifted the house off its foundation. Fortunately, Rich and his wife, Atsuko, were not home at the time. Rich arrived, moments later, and used his CERT skills to assist. Sheriff’s deputies in keeping people away from the hazard. Rich told us that his training made him feel more “in control” and encourages everyone to take CERT classes before being faced with an emergency. Cash donations are being collected to help them get through the next few months. Make checks payable to “Cupertino Community Services” with a notation for the Rich Madden Fund. Mail to Cupertino Community Services, 10104 Vista Drive, Cupertino, 95014

CERT

There are only three chances left this year to sign up for Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training. Congratulations to another CERT graduate, Fari Aberg, for receiving the Cupertino CREST award for community service.

CARES Field Day

The CARES Field Day will be June 28 at Memorial Park. When disaster strikes and telephones are overwhelmed, amateur radio keeps going. Visit their displays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. as they participate in a world wide communication competition. See how these dedicated volunteers help our community share information and stay in touch. Get information about becoming a Ham Radio operator to guarantee your own ability to communicate after a disaster.

Regional CERT exercise promotes community awareness. On April 19, twenty members of CERT and Cupertino Amateur Radio Emergency Response (CARES) assembled at Faria Elementary School for an earthquake drill. The neighborhood, bordered by Stevens Creek, DeAnza, McClellan and Stelling was dotted with bright orange “disaster scenario” cards. Members of the neighborhood volunteered to be “victims.” Teams were formed to walk through the streets, radio their findings to the Command Post and take care of injured victims. This was the first time CERT members had organized outside their local neighborhood to help others. The teams found that it was much more difficult to be in an unfamiliar neighborhood because they had no data. Organized neighborhoods have lists of:

- The number of people in each family
- Any special needs, medication or mobility problems
- The number of pets and their needs
- Emergency contact numbers
- Special tools and equipment at each home
- Neighbors who have special skills (medical, translation, amateur radio, etc)
- Neighbors who have organized special teams to assist with first aid, hazard identification, communication, search & rescue, child care, etc.

There are definite advantages to organizing your own neighborhood for disasters...but, if you can’t...Regional CERT teams will come to check on you...after they’ve taken care of their own neighborhoods.

Upcoming Classes:
Kaleidoscope Public Safety Camp for 6th to 12th grade
July 7 to 11, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Limited to 20 students. Cost $15. Classes include 9-1-1 tour, law enforcement, first aid, CPR, earthquake preparedness and fire safety and extinguisher use.

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT), Free
Sign up for all day or half day classes. The three day grouping includes all six CERT classes to help you graduate faster. Classes include personal preparedness, utility shutoff, fire safety and extinguisher use, disaster psychology, damage as-assessment, search and rescue, first aid and neighborhood organization.

Aug. 2, Sept. 6, Oct. 4, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

First Aid, Cost $10.
June 7, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
July 24, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. or 6:30 to 10 p.m.

CPR Cost $10
June 27, 6:30 to 10 p.m.

If you do only one thing to prepare this month...

Hold a block party this summer. Show your neighbors that you want to develop a safer, friendlier community. The city will block off the street for you. There are a variety of city services that can come to assist including Parks & Recreation leaders come to entertain children, Sheriff’s Office to share safety tips and neighborhood watch information, County Fire to discuss fire safety and look at an engine, Office of Emergency Services to discuss earthquake preparedness. For information call 777-3331. To request an application, call 777-3354.

To register for classes or request additional information on how to be prepared, go to “Emergency Preparedness” at www.cupertino.org/emergency, or contact Marsha Hovey, 408 777-3335 or email OES@cupertino.org. Registration forms are also available at the Library, Quinlan Center and City Hall.

Block Parties Made Easy

The city of Cupertino’s block party program helps neighbors stay in touch and “party in the street.”

This free service to Cupertino residents offers Parks and Recreation staff to lead games, appearances by emergency vehicles, such as fire, Sheriff’s and 9-1-1 communications units, and presentations on emergency preparedness and Neighborhood Watch. The City will also deliver barricades to the neighborhood to temporarily close the street. In addition, the city pays for insurance liability coverage for parties of up to 500 participants.

Block parties can be held from 9 a.m. to dusk on local neighborhood streets. Application packets are available at the Cupertino Public Works Department. Completed applications are due 30 days prior to a block party. For more information, call (408)777-3354.

Follow the Trail, Part 3

Established by John T. Doyle in the late 1800’s, the Las Palmas Winery and vineyards not only encompassed both sides of Stevens/Cupertino Creek area from Orange Ave. to Foothill Blvd. The Doyle home and various winery facilities, barns and outbuildings were the size of a small village. Reprinted here is a graphic drawing by the late artist, A. “Pete” Emig, showing the approximate locations of Doyle’s large and elaborate enterprise. (1) entrance to the (2) west of Stevens Creek vineyards (3) prune orchard and (4) 4 story winery facility for grape crushing, down Palm Ave., from Foothill Blvd. (5)fenced frog pond (6) Cupertino/Stevens Creek (7) old road built by Elisha Stephens (8) steam boiler (9) 1/3 mile long pipe from west winery facility, across creek and valley to east winery facility (10) wooden stairs from base of bluff up to east winery building (11) De Anza well (12) Palace Hotel (13) east winery buildings (14) site of De Anza plaque discovery (15) Doyle residence (16) Doyle barn (17) Cupertino’s first post office (18) Chinese hotel. Cupertino’s first post office was located on the Doyle property from 1882-1893. Doyle named it Cupertino after learning the area was named by De Anza’s cartographer, Petrus Font, 110 years earlier. The first University of California winemaking research facility was also located on the Doyle property.

There were various barns, automobile, truck and tractor garages, tool and implement sheds, chicken coops, pigeon runs, cottages and pumping stations, diverting water from Stevens Creek not only for the winery, but later on, the beginning development of Monta Vista. Water was also supplied to the cannery and adjoining properties. The foundations of Cupertino’s water system came from Doyle’s system of small dams and pumping stations on the creek.

Doyle’s wines were recognized internationally. He secured choice vines from the world’s best vineyards. In a report, he wrote, “By the kindness of His Grace, Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, (Doyle was legal counsel for the S.F. archdiocese) we have received cuttings from a grapevine...grown in Palestine; owing to a mischance in shipment these came near being lost but by good fortune and care...we are now growing 10 specimens. We have also received from Chateau la Fitte in France, the genuine Merlot. These came directly from M. Mortier, the steward of that famous vineyard and are undoubtedly genuine.”

In 1889, Doyle’s Monta Vista wines were selected by the U.S. Viticultural Commission as among the best in the nation and sent to represent the U.S. at foreign expositions. In 1900, at the Paris Exposition, Monta Vista Cabernet won First Place for the best cabernet wine in the world produced outside of France. In 1904, M.V. Cabernet won Second Prize at the Lyons Industrial Exposition for best cabernet in the world. (The French awarded themselves First Prize) Other fine wines produced by Doyle were Petite Syrah, Burgundy and Merlot. One of the fascinating bits of trivia gleaned from researching Las Palmas Winery was the discovery that cream of tartar (an ingredient used in thickeningmeringues) is a hard substance that

City’s Pest Control Policy
City staff, and city contractors, responsible for pest control on city property, are now operating under a new “Integrated Pest Management” policy that formally requires a more systematic review of the use of insecticides and herbicides. Staff and contractors are examining their specific standard practices for controlling pests and weeds to ensure that all reasonable steps are taken to avoid the use of pesticides, whenever possible, while still fixing problems. The level of toxicity of each pesticide used is being examined and compared to lists of possible alternative, less-toxic products that may be as effective. These exercises will potentially result in pilots that will help us decide if we should change our standard practices. Watch for specific detail on city facility pest control in future Scene articles.

Grasscycling

A reminder for gardeners: turf experts recommend that grass clippings be left on the lawn to return the nitrogen in the clippings (one of the primary ingredients in fertilizer) back to the lawn. This will reduce the amount of fertilizer needed, and will cut down on the yard waste that will need to be collected for composting. And the mulch helps prevent water loss by evaporation. Short clippings will fall into the lawn’s root area and decompose quickly. For best results, use a mulching mower. Follow the “1/3 rule”: a lawn should be mowed so that no more than 1/3 of the grass height is cut at any one mowing. This will prevent an unsightly “hay-like” appearance. Mow when the grass is dry to prevent clippings from clumping in piles on the lawn. Thatch is caused by grass roots and stems—not clippings. This practice has been followed by Cupertino’s Public Works Dept. in our city parks, with good results, for many years.

Pool Maintenance
Residents that need to drain their pool or spa this season should be aware of steps that must be taken to protect city creeks. If pool water is pumped directly into the gutter, it will flow into a storm drain, and straight into one of Cupertino’s creeks. The chlorine and pool chemicals (especially copper-based algaecides) in pool water are a threat to aquatic creatures in the creeks—so draining into the gutter is prohibited by City Ordinance No. 9.18.040. Pool water must be pumped into the home’s sanitary sewer “clean-out.” Before a pool is drained, the pool owner or the pool technician must call the Cupertino Sanitary District at 253-7071. District staff can provide assistance in finding the home’s “clean-out” and answer questions about the appropriate pumping flow rate and technique, and the right time of day to be draining the pool.

forms on the inside of wine vats during fermentation. Workers were sent into emptied vats to chip this hard residue off the vat interiors and the product was then sold commercially.

The lofty palm trees lining Palm Avenue and the stone foundation wall of the east winery building off McClellan Road are all that remain of John T. Doyle’s magnificent winery and vineyards. Along Stevens Creek are crumbling chunks of old concrete, a portion of one of the old pump sheds and a few pieces of rusty pipe from the creekside pump stations that used to bring hundreds of thousands of gallons of water to the east side and west side of the creek to maintain what was, in the late 1800’s and early 1900’s, one of the most beautiful winery estates in California.
